Roasted Cauliflower Pizza

with Kale, Ricotta, and Whole-Wheat Crust

A trio of cheeses—mozzarella, provolone, and ricotta—gives the sauce in tonight's white pizza its incredible creaminess. We stir in kale for a touch of green, then spread over a whole-wheat pizza crust. Cauliflower and garlic pick up a little sweetness as they roast, a great complement to the nutty flavor of the crust and the richness of all that cheese.

Ingredients

- 1½ pounds whole-wheat pizza dough
- 8 ounces curly kale
- 1 herb mix, divided
  - ⅛ ounce rosemary
  - ⅛ ounce thyme
- 1 pound cauliflower florets
- 1 yellow onion
- 6 cloves garlic
- ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 1 container heavy cream
- 8 ounces ricotta cheese
- 6 ounces shredded mozzarella and provolone cheese blend
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 parchment papers

You'll need

- olive oil
- kosher salt
- black pepper
- aluminum foil
- 2 baking sheets
- 10" medium high-sided pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Pizza dough softens as it warms—the longer you let it sit at room temperature, the easier it'll be to roll out. We recommend at least 15 minutes, so that once the sauce is ready, your dough is too.

Try lifting the dough with your hands, letting gravity help stretch it down. Using your fingers, gently pull the edges, feeling for thicker areas so the dough doesn't tear.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 425°F. Remove pizza doughs from bags and let soften at room temperature (see recipe tip). Rinse all produce. Roughly chop kale into bite-size pieces, discarding stems. Strip rosemary leaves, discarding stems, then mince. Cut cauliflower into 1 inch–wide florets. Peel onion, halve, and thinly slice. Thinly slice garlic, place on a small piece of foil, and drizzle over olive oil. Bring edges of foil together to form a pouch.

2. Roast cauliflower and garlic

Line a baking sheet with foil. Add cauliflower and toss with crushed red pepper (skip or use half for less heat), rosemary, 2 tablespoons olive oil, ¾ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer, spacing apart. Add garlic pouch to sheet and roast until cauliflower is golden and almost tender (it will finish cooking on the pizza as it bakes) and garlic is soft, 13–15 minutes.

3. Make cheese sauce

While cauliflower and garlic roast, heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a medium high-sided pan over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add whole thyme sprigs and onion; sauté, stirring, until soft, 6–8 minutes. Add cream, increase heat to medium high; simmer until slightly reduced, 1–2 minutes. Remove pan from heat; remove and discard thyme sprigs. Stir in ricotta, mozzarella and provolone, kale, ½ teaspoon salt, and black pepper.

4. Roll out doughs

While onion cooks, sprinkle flour onto a clean, dry surface, coating a rolling pin or your hands with a thin layer. Roll or stretch doughs into rectangular shapes, rotating frequently and working from center to edges, until ¼-inch thick (see recipe tip). Once roasted, remove garlic pouch from sheet; carefully remove roasted garlic and roughly chop. Transfer cauliflower to a bowl for the next step. Discard foil, reserving sheet.

5. Assemble and bake pizzas

Line baking sheet from cauliflower (careful, it might still be hot) and another sheet with parchment papers and rub each with 1 teaspoon olive oil. Add pizza doughs, gently stretching to reach edges of sheets, and rub each all over with 1 teaspoon olive oil. Spread over cheese sauce, leaving a ½-inch border. Scatter over roasted cauliflower. Bake until crusts are crisp and golden and cheese is bubbling, switching halfway through if on different racks, 15–17 minutes total.

6. Plate cauliflower pizza

Use the downtime while the pizzas bake to get ahead on dishes or relax with a glass of wine. Sprinkle roasted garlic over roasted cauliflower pizzas. Cut into slices and dig in!
