You'll Need

1 tablespoon canola oil
kosher salt
black pepper
8" medium pot

Recipe Tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Curry paste is spicy, so use only as much as desired depending on your spice preference.

Coconut milk separates naturally when it cooks. It will come together once the curry thickens.

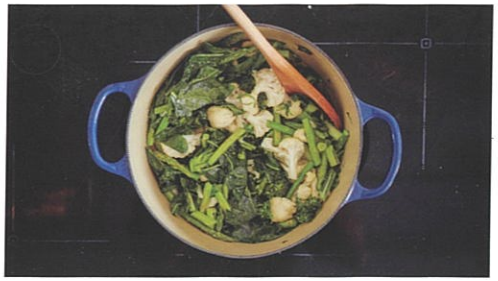

USDA recommends cooking fish to 145°F.

1. Prepare Ingredients

Trim and discard skin of ginger and mince. Rinse remaining produce. Break cauliflower into ½-inch florets. Cut Chinese broccoli into 1-inch pieces. Trim and discard woody ends of asparagus and cut into 2-inch pieces. Rinse tilapia and pat dry with paper towel.

2. Sauté Vegetables

Heat 1 tablespoon canola oil in a medium pot over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add cauliflower, Chinese broccoli, and asparagus and sauté, stirring, until beginning to soften, about 5 minutes.

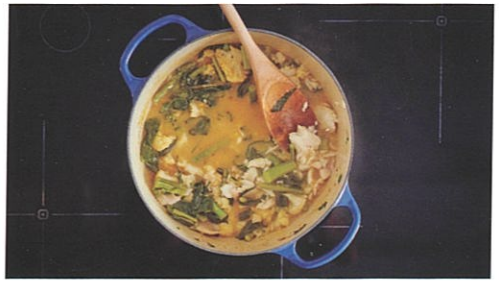

3. Make Curry Base

Add ginger to pot with vegetables and sauté, stirring, until fragrant, 1-2 minutes. Stir in as much curry paste as desired and cook until toasted, about 1 minute (see Recipe Tip).

4. Simmer Curry

Add coconut milk, vegetable stock, brown sugar, and fish sauce to pot with curry base and stir to combine. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce heat to medium and simmer, stirring occasionally, until curry is thickened and flavors are melded, about 5 minutes. Season with ¼ teaspoon kosher salt and pepper as desired.

5. Cook Tilapia

Season tilapia all over with ¼ teaspoon kosher salt and pepper as desired. Add to pot with curry, nestling in. Increase heat to medium high and cook until tilapia is opaque, about 5 minutes. Remove pot from heat. Using a spoon, break tilapia into smaller pieces. Taste and add more salt and pepper as needed.

6. Plate Curry

Ladle vegetables, curry, and tilapia into bowls. Take in the fragrance, then dig in.
