Brown rice hack: The amount of water isn't indicated because you'll drain the rice like you do with pasta when it's finished cooking.

If you're having trouble cutting your steak into very thin slices, try wrapping it in plastic and placing it in the freezer for about 15 minutes. Doing so allows the meat to firm up, making it more stable and easier to slice.

USDA recommends cooking beef to 145°F.

1. Prepare Ingredients

Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Halve green garlic lengthwise and cut crosswise into ½-inch pieces. Trim and discard skin of ginger and mince. Rinse remaining produce. Cut flowering chives into 2-inch pieces. Pat steak dry with paper towel and cut against the grain into ⅛-inch slices.

2. Cook Rice

Add rice and a pinch salt to pot of boiling water and cook until tender, about 10 minutes (see Recipe Tip). Drain and set aside.

3. Sear Steak

While rice cooks, season steak all over with ½ kosher salt and pepper as desired. Heat 1 tablespoon canola oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add steak and sear until browned on outside and medium rare, 1-2 minutes per side. Remove from pan and set aside.

4. Stir-Fry Vegetables

Wipe pan from steak clean and add 1 tablespoon canola oil over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add sugar snap peas, carrots, green garlic, and ginger. Season with ¼ teaspoon kosher salt and pepper as desired. Cook, stirring, until vegetables are softened, about 3 minutes. Meanwhile, in a small bowl, whisk together oyster sauce, soy sauce, and rice wine vinegar to make stir-fry sauce.

5. Season Stir-Fry

Add seared steak and stir-fry sauce to pan with vegetables over medium heat and cook, stirring, until everything is warmed through, about 2 minutes.

6. Plate Stir-Fry

Spoon steak stir-fry over rice and garnish with flowering chives. Enjoy the fruits of your labor.
