Black Forest Cookies

with Dried Cherries and Dark Chocolate Drizzle

Tonight, we're transforming black forest cake into decadent cookies. The classic German dessert typically involves chocolate cake infused with a cherry liqueur called kirschwasser, plus layers of whipped cream, sour cherries, and more chocolate. Our version uses dried cherries and dark chocolate in the dough, plus an extra drizzle of melted chocolate over the finished cookies.

- ½ cup sugar

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Work quickly so the dough is easier to handle—the warmer the dough gets, the more difficult it will be to roll.

Letting the cookies cool slightly after baking helps the chocolate drizzle set in Step 6.

Store any leftover cookies in an airtight container at room temperature for up to 3 days.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 350°F. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper for Step 4. Roughly chop dried cherries. Roughly chop half of dark chocolate for Step 3; leave remainder whole for Step 5.

2. Melt butter

Place butter in a large heatproof bowl and microwave in 30-second intervals until completely melted. Alternatively, in a small pot, melt butter over medium heat, then pour into a large heatproof bowl.

3. Make and chill cookie dough

To bowl with melted butter, add sugar and cocoa powder; whisk to fully combine. Add vanilla and 1 egg and whisk until mixture is shiny. Stir in flour, baking powder, dried cherries, chopped chocolate, and ⅛ teaspoon salt to fully combine. Cover bowl with cookie dough with plastic wrap and chill in freezer to harden slightly, 15–20 minutes.

4. Form and bake cookies

Once cookie dough has hardened slightly, using your hands, divide and roll into 12 equal balls, about 2 tablespoons dough each (see recipe tip). Arrange dough balls on prepared baking sheet, spacing apart. Bake until edges are slightly crisp but centers are still soft, about 13 minutes (move on to Step 5—but don't forget to come back). Then, let cookies cool on baking sheet, 5–10 minutes (see recipe tip).

5. Make chocolate drizzle

While cookies bake, place remaining dark chocolate in a medium heatproof bowl. Microwave in 30-second intervals until completely melted. Alternatively, create a double boiler: Bring 2 inches water to a boil in a medium pot over high heat. Place bowl with chocolate over pot and stir until chocolate is melted and smooth, 2–4 minutes. Use any remaining downtime to enjoy the sweet smells filling up your kitchen.

6. Finish and plate cookies

Once cookies have cooled, still on baking sheet, drizzle over melted dark chocolate. Let dark chocolate drizzle cool to harden slightly, about 5 minutes. Enjoy black forest cookies with fellow chocolate lovers—glass of milk optional!
