Roasted Chicken Pitas

with Cucumber, Bell Pepper, and Creamy Harissa

Also known as Marash pepper, silk chile powder has medium heat levels and a warming, tomato-like flavor. It's an excellent seasoning for cooking or finishing, so tonight, we use it both ways. Some is used to season chicken—we then pile the roasted meat onto warm pitas with a salad of bell pepper, cucumber, dill, and lime juice. Drizzle over a creamy harissa sauce, then garnish with more silk chile powder for an eye-catching and zippy garnish.

black pepper
aluminum foil baking sheet

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Silk chile powder is a bit spicy—you could use less for milder heat, but it's really what flavors the chicken here.

Using a slotted spoon leaves excess moisture behind so your pitas don't get soggy.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 475°F. Rinse all produce. Thinly slice half of cucumber crosswise into rounds (enjoy remainder as a snack). Halve bell pepper lengthwise, discarding seeds and stem; cut lengthwise into ¼-inch strips. Roughly chop dill leaves, discarding stems. Halve lime. Peel shallot, halve, and thinly slice half (save remainder for another recipe). Mince garlic. Line a baking sheet with foil for the next step.

2. Season chicken

Pat chicken very dry with paper towel and cut into 1-inch pieces. On prepared baking sheet, toss chicken with garlic, half of silk chile powder (see recipe tip), 1 tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired to thoroughly combine; arrange in a single layer.

3. Roast chicken and warm pitas

Roast chicken until cooked through and no longer pink, 10–12 minutes. Meanwhile, stack pitas and wrap in foil. Transfer to oven (with chicken) to warm through until ready to serve.

4. Marinate bell pepper

While chicken roasts, in a medium bowl, whisk together juice of ½ lime, 2 teaspoons olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired. Add bell pepper and sliced shallot and toss to coat. Set aside to marinate until Step 6. Save remaining lime to brighten a glass of water.

5. Make creamy harissa

In a small bowl, stir together sour cream, harissa (it's spicy, so feel free to use less), 2 teaspoons olive oil, and ⅛ teaspoon salt to combine.

6. Assemble and plate pitas

To bowl with bell pepper, add cucumber and half of dill; toss salad to combine. Carefully open pouch with pitas to allow steam to escape, then transfer to serving plates. Using a slotted spoon, top pitas with roasted chicken, then salad (see recipe tip). Drizzle over creamy harissa. Garnish with remaining dill and remaining silk chile powder. Dig in!
