Roasted Cauliflower Bibimbap

with Crispy Rice and Pickled Cucumbers

This bibimbap, a Korean favorite meaning "mixed rice", is actually all about what's underneath, though the glazed and roasted cauliflower, pickled cucumber, and Sriracha drizzle on top are pretty great too. Cooked short-grain rice sears in the pan until the bottom is slightly golden and crisp, adding fantastic texture to the bowls. Go ahead and break the runny yolk over everything.

Plated.

Ingredients

- ¾ cup sushi rice
- ½ English cucumber
- 12 ounces cauliflower florets
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons gluten-free soy sauce
- 2 teaspoons gochujang
- 2 tablespoons sesame oil, divided
- 2 tablespoons rice wine vinegar
- 5 ounces baby spinach
- 1 teaspoon sesame seeds
- 2 packets Sriracha

You'll need

- canola oil
- 2 eggs
- kosher salt
- black pepper
- 6" small pot with lid
- baking sheet
- aluminum foil
- 12" large nonstick pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Gochujang, a thick red Korean chile paste, has a spicy, savory flavor. Use half of the paste for less heat.

Classic bibimbap is cooked and served in scorching-hot stone bowls so the bottom develops an addictive crispy crust. We get a similar result by letting cooked rice sit in a hot pan until the bottom becomes golden and crunchy.

1. Cook rice

Preheat oven to 425°F. In a small pot, combine rice, 1¼ cups water, and ¼ teaspoon salt and bring to a boil over high heat. Stir once, reduce heat to low, cover pot, and cook until water is fully absorbed, about 12 minutes. Remove pot from heat and let stand, still covered, for 10 minutes. Fluff rice with a fork, then set aside uncovered to release steam (this will make it easier to fry in Step 4).

2. Prepare ingredients

While rice cooks, rinse cucumber, quarter lengthwise, and cut crosswise into ¼-inch pieces. Rinse cauliflower and cut to ½-inch wide florets, if needed. Mince garlic. In a large bowl, whisk together brown sugar, soy sauce, gochujang (see recipe tip), and half of sesame oil until fully combined.

3. Roast cauliflower

Line a baking sheet with foil. Add cauliflower to bowl with soy sauce mixture and toss to coat. Transfer cauliflower to baking sheet. Arrange in a single layer, spacing apart, and roast until cauliflower is tender and slightly browned, about 20 minutes.

4. Toast rice and pickle cucumber

While cauliflower roasts, heat remaining sesame oil in a large nonstick pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add cooked rice in a single layer. Cook, without moving, until golden and crisp on bottom, 4 minutes (see recipe tip). Meanwhile, in a small bowl, stir together rice wine vinegar, cucumber, and ¼ teaspoon salt. Set aside to pickle. Divide crispy rice between serving dishes, reserving pan for Step 5.

5. Cook spinach and fry eggs

Add ½ tablespoon canola oil to pan from rice over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add garlic. Cook until fragrant, about 1 minute. Add spinach, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper and sauté to wilt, 2–3 minutes. Transfer to dishes with rice. Wipe pan clean. Add ½ tablespoon canola oil to pan over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, crack 2 eggs into pan. Season with ⅛ teaspoon salt and pepper. Fry until whites are set but yolks are still runny, 2–3 minutes.

6. Plate cauliflower bibimbap

Divide roasted cauliflower between dishes with crispy rice and sautéed spinach. Drain pickled cucumbers, discarding pickling liquid, and add to plates. Top cauliflower with fried eggs and sprinkle over sesame seeds. Drizzle over Sriracha, break that yolk, and dig in!
