SERVING PLAN 2 SERVING PLAN

Sesame Grilled Chicken

with Peppers and Snap Peas

For this grill-forward salad infused with Asian flavors, we turned to sesame oil for nutty notes in a miso–rice wine vinaigrette. But we couldn't just stop there. Because sesame oil has a high smoke point—the temperature at which fat can no longer withstand heat, and therefore begins to smoke and change flavor—it's ideal for charring chicken over the intense flame of the grill.

25-35 minutes 440 calories per serving

P.

Plated.

Ingredients

- 1 red bell pepper
- 2 scallions
- 4 ounces sugar snap peas
- 1 tablespoon miso paste
- 2 packets gluten-free soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon sesame seeds
- 1 tablespoon rice wine vinegar
- 2 tablespoons sesame oil, divided
- 2 boneless skinless chicken breasts
- 1 slaw mix
  - 1 cup shredded red cabbage
  - ¾ cup shredded carrots
- 5 ounces baby spinach
- 3 ounces frisée

You'll Need

kosher salt
black pepper
grill or grill pan
aluminum foil

Recipe Tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

No outdoor grill? Preheat a grill pan at the end of Step 2 instead. Or, use a regular medium pan over medium-high heat. Sauté thinly sliced bell pepper and scallion with snap peas in ½ tablespoon canola oil, 3-4 minutes. Transfer to a plate. Skip rubbing chicken with oil—sear chicken in remaining sesame oil over medium high, 6 minutes per side.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

Questions? Email help@plated.com or call 855-525-2399. Visit plated.me/allergens for more information on dietary restrictions.

1734-2914-2P

1. Prepare Ingredients

Preheat grill to medium-high heat (see Recipe Tip). Rinse all produce. Quarter bell pepper lengthwise, discarding seeds and stem. Trim and discard scallion roots. (If you won't be using a grill or grill pan, thinly slice bell pepper and scallions instead). Place a large piece of foil on a clean, dry surface, and add snap peas. Fold edges of foil up together and crimp to seal pouch.

2. Make Miso-Sesame Dressing

In a large bowl, whisk together miso, soy sauce, sesame seeds, rice wine vinegar, and 1 tablespoon sesame oil until smooth and fully combined. Season with black pepper as desired (no need to add salt here—you'll get a nice saltiness from the soy and miso). Reserve 1 tablespoon dressing in a small bowl for serving. If using a grill pan, place over medium-high heat now.

3. Grill Vegetables

When grill is just smoking, add bell pepper skin-side down, along with pouch of snap peas. Cook until bell pepper is beginning to char and soften on bottom, 3 minutes. Flip bell pepper, then add scallions alongside and continue grilling, flipping occasionally, until completely charred and fragrant, 2-3 minutes more. Transfer bell pepper, scallions, and snap peas to a plate. Reduce grill heat to medium.

4. Grill Chicken

Pat chicken dry with paper towel and rub all over with remaining sesame oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired. Once grill has reached medium heat, add chicken and cook until lightly charred, cooked through, and no longer pink, 4-5 minutes per side. Transfer chicken to a plate and cover loosely with foil to keep warm.

5. Toss Salad

Once grilled, thinly slice bell pepper into strips, and roughly chop scallions, then add both to large bowl with dressing. Add slaw mix, spinach, and snap peas. Trim off ½ inch of dark green tops of frisée, and trim and discard tough stem. Cut or tear leaves into bite-size pieces, add to bowl with vegetables, and toss everything to coat with dressing.

6. Plate Sesame Grilled Chicken

Divide salad between serving plates. Cut sesame grilled chicken into ¼-inch slices and serve on top. Drizzle over reserved 1 tablespoon dressing, and dig in!

Join the Plated community and post your #platedpics!

2