Seared Steak

with Shichimi Togarashi Fries and Miso Mayo

Steak and French fries, a bistro favorite, gets an unexpected yet incredibly delicious upgrade with Japanese flavors. We add shichimi togarashi, a blend of dried chile, sesame, and nori (dried seaweed) to the fries and serve with a miso mayo for dipping. Gently smashing the cucumbers for the salad helps them absorb the sesame dressing while still retaining their crunch.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Smash the cucumbers on a clean, dry, sturdy surface. Don't feel the need to use too much force—you're just softening the cucumbers to release flavorful juices.

Cutting meat against the grain ensures tenderness. Find the direction of the grain (muscle fibers) and slice across it, rather than parallel.

USDA recommends cooking beef to 145°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Halve potatoes lengthwise. Cut lengthwise into ¼-inch slices, then cut lengthwise again into ¼-inch fries. Halve cucumber lengthwise, then halve crosswise. Arrange skin-side up and, using a meat mallet or heavy pan, gently smash cucumber until skin cracks and flesh softens (see recipe tip). Cut crosswise into 1-inch pieces. Halve lime.

2. Bake shichimi togarashi fries

On a baking sheet, toss potatoes with shichimi togarashi (it's spicy, so feel free to use less), 1½ tablespoons olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer and bake, rotating sheet halfway through to ensure even cooking, until browned and tender, 20–25 minutes total.

3. Make cucumber salad

While potatoes bake, trim and discard scallion roots and thinly slice crosswise on a diagonal, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens. In a large bowl, combine rice wine vinegar, sesame oil, sesame seeds, cucumber, scallion whites and light greens, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired, and toss to combine. Set aside until ready to serve.

4. Sear steaks

Pat steaks dry with paper towel and season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Heat ½ tablespoon olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add steaks and sear until browned and medium rare, 4–6 minutes per side. Transfer steaks to a plate and set aside to rest, about 5 minutes.

5. Make miso mayo

While steaks sear, in a small bowl, whisk together miso and juice of ½ lime until smooth. Add mayonnaise and whisk to combine. Use remaining lime in another recipe, like a well-deserved cocktail.

6. Plate seared steak

Once rested, cut steaks against the grain into ¼-inch slices (see recipe tip). Serve with shichimi togarashi fries, cucumber salad, and miso mayo for dipping. Garnish everything with scallion dark greens. Dig in!
