Brown Sugar–Chili Bacon

with Fried Eggs and Potato Hash

Today's play on the classic diner breakfast takes crispy, smoky bacon to the next level. It's coated in a blend of brown sugar, chili powder, and cayenne for a slightly spicy and surprisingly sweet crunch that's so addictive, you'll be wondering when you can make it again (we suggest for an afternoon snack). We're serving it with fried eggs and roasted potato hash seasoned with garlic, rosemary, and caramelized shallot.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

When bacon cooks, its natural fat will be released, so we suggest using a rimmed baking sheet with high enough walls to prevent spilling.

You only need 4 eggs for this recipe. Save remaining eggs for tomorrow's breakfast.

For runny egg yolks, USDA recommends cooking to 145°F. Consuming raw or undercooked eggs may increase your risk of foodborne illness.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 400°F. Rinse all produce. Cut red-skinned potatoes into ½-inch pieces. Cut sweet potato into ½-inch pieces. In a small bowl, stir together brown sugar, chili powder, and half of cayenne (use less for milder heat or more for extra spice—save any remainder for another recipe) and stir to combine. Set aside for Step 4.

2. Roast bacon and potatoes

Line 2 baking sheets with foil (see recipe tip). On 1 prepared sheet, arrange bacon in a single layer; bake until beginning to crisp, 12 minutes. Meanwhile, on other prepared sheet, toss red-skinned potatoes and sweet potatoes with 1½ tablespoons olive oil, ¼ teaspoons salt, and black pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer; roast (with bacon) until potatoes are soft and beginning to brown, 12–15 minutes.

3. Sauté aromatics

While potatoes roast, thinly slice chives. Strip rosemary leaves, discarding stems, then mince. Peel shallot, halve, and thinly slice. Mince garlic. Heat butter and 2 teaspoons olive oil in a large nonstick pan over medium-high heat. When butter is foamy, add shallot; sauté, stirring, until softened, 5–6 minutes. Add rosemary, garlic, and 1 tablespoon water. Cook, stirring, until shallot is golden, 1–2 minutes; transfer to a small bowl, reserving pan, off heat.

4. Glaze bacon

Once bacon is beginning to crisp, remove sheet from oven. Sprinkle brown sugar–chili mixture over bacon in an even layer. Return to oven and bake until brown sugar mixture is melted and coats bacon, 6–8 minutes. Transfer bacon to a paper towel–lined plate to cool (as it cools, the sugar will harden and the bacon will become candied).

5. Fry eggs

While bacon cooks, wipe pan from aromatics clean and place over medium heat with 1 tablespoon olive oil. When oil is shimmering, crack 4 eggs into pan (see recipe tip) and season with salt and black pepper as desired. Fry until whites start to set, 2 minutes. Cover pan and continue frying until whites are set but yolks are still runny, 2 minutes more.

6. Plate bacon and eggs

Once roasted, add sautéed aromatics to sheet with roasted potatoes and toss to combine. Divide potato hash between serving plates and top with fried eggs. Add brown sugar–chili bacon to plates. Garnish everything with chives and black pepper as desired. Enjoy!
