Braised Pork and Apples

with Haricots Verts and Herbed Sourdough Croutons

We're in the home stretch to fall—it's time to reacquaint yourself with the cozy braise, which involves searing meat for brown edges, then finishing with a moisture-locking simmer in a flavorful broth or sauce. This recipe highlights the classic combo of pork and apples, plus fragrant sage, thyme, and a white wine–laced chicken broth. Sourdough croutons toast and brown on top for complementary crunch.

Recipe tips

Here's a cheffy trick for picking thyme leaves all at once: Pinch the stem near the top with 1 hand, then slide the fingers of your other hand down the length of the stem, from top to bottom. The leaves will come off easily.

USDA recommends cooking pork to 145°F.

1. Sear pork chops

Preheat oven to 425°F. Pat pork chops dry with paper towel; season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a medium high-sided ovenproof pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add pork chops and sear until browned on bottom, 3–5 minutes. Flip and sear about 1 minute more (they'll finish cooking in the oven). Transfer pork chops to a plate, browned-side up. Reserve fat in pan, off heat, for Step 3.

2. Prepare ingredients

While pork chops sear, unwrap 2 packets butter and cut into small dice. Cut or tear sourdough into ½-inch pieces. Rinse all produce. Slice off rounded sides of apple and thinly slice, discarding core. Trim and discard ends of haricots verts (line up the ends to trim them all at once). Roughly chop sage leaves, discarding stems. Strip thyme leaves, discarding stems (see recipe tip). Peel onion, halve, and thinly slice.

3. Make sauce

Return pan from pork to medium-high heat with remaining butter and 2 teaspoons olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add apple and onion; cook, stirring, until soft and beginning to brown, 5–6 minutes. Add white wine; cook, scraping up brown bits from pan, until reduced by ½, 1–2 minutes. Add bouillon cube and 1 cup water; stir to combine, mashing cube to dissolve. Simmer until reduced by ⅓, 5–6 minutes more. Remove pan from heat.

4. Roast haricots verts

While sauce simmers, line a baking sheet with aluminum foil. On sheet, toss haricots verts with 1 tablespoon olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer and roast until tender, 8–10 minutes.

5. Braise pork and apples

Season pan sauce with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Return pork to pan with sauce, browned-side up, nestling partway into sauce. Scatter over sourdough, sage, and thyme. Dot with diced butter. Transfer pan to oven and roast until croutons are golden and pork is cooked through and no longer pink, 8–10 minutes. Use any downtime to set the table.

6. Plate braised pork and apples

Divide roasted haricots verts between serving plates. Add braised pork, apples, and onions, being sure to divide sourdough croutons evenly. Dig in!
