Brown Butter Gnocchi

with Butternut Squash, Walnuts, and Sage

When melted butter continues to cook in the pan, it turns golden brown and becomes nutty and fragrant. Tonight, we add garlic and earthy sage for even more flavor. Tender gnocchi sear in the same pan until crisp and coated, then join butternut squash and kale for a hearty, beautiful bowl. Enlist a helping hand to separate the gnocchi before boiling to keep them from sticking.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

We recommend cutting the cubed squash into ½-inch pieces so it will roast more quickly and meld with the gnocchi when tossed.

Brown butter is easy to make, but does require paying attention so it doesn't burn. If possible, use a light-colored pan so you can see the color change as it cooks. Swirl the pan around or stir often.

Let the gnocchi sear, without stirring, so they get slightly crisp on the outside.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Bring a large pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse all produce. Cut butternut squash cubes to ½-inch pieces, if needed (see recipe tip). Roughly chop baby kale. Pick sage leaves, discarding stems (a helper can do this part). Using the flat side of a knife, gently crush garlic clove.

2. Roast squash and toast walnuts

On a baking sheet, toss squash with 1 tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer and roast until lightly browned and tender, 15–18 minutes. Meanwhile, place walnuts in a large high-sided pan over medium heat. Toast, stirring, until golden and fragrant, about 3 minutes. Transfer walnuts to a plate, reserving pan for the next step.

3. Make brown butter

Return pan from walnuts to medium heat with butter, sage, and crushed garlic. Swirl pan occasionally until butter turns golden and fragrant, 7–8 minutes (see recipe tip). Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Remove pan from heat and remove and discard crushed garlic. Set brown butter aside until Step 5.

4. Boil gnocchi

Over a clean, dry surface, use your hands to gently separate gnocchi—another great task for a helper. Season pot of boiling water generously with salt. Add gnocchi and cook, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking, until just floating to the surface, about 2 minutes. Reserve ½ cup pasta cooking water (this will help create a silky sauce in Step 6), then drain.

5. Finish gnocchi

Heat pan with brown butter over medium-high heat. Add gnocchi and stir once to coat. Arrange in a single layer and cook, without stirring, until beginning to brown, about 3 minutes (see recipe tip). Then, stir gnocchi and cook until lightly browned on all sides, 3–5 minutes more. Add baby kale, roasted squash, and half of Parmesan to pan and stir to combine.

6. Plate brown butter gnocchi

Adding 1 tablespoon at a time, stir reserved pasta cooking water into pan with gnocchi until sauce is silky and clings to gnocchi. Remove pan from heat. Taste and add salt and pepper as desired. Divide brown butter gnocchi among serving bowls. Garnish with toasted walnuts and remaining Parmesan. Dig in!
