Buffalo Chicken Meatball Sliders

with Carrot Fries and Greek Yogurt Ranch

Tender chicken doused in buttery hot sauce, with crisp carrot sticks and a creamy sauce for dipping... In this Encore meal, we've rolled the entire Buffalo wing experience into another delightful bar snack: sliders. The trick to perfect meatballs? A fine-tuned balance of moisture and binding (here, the chicken just needs breadcrumbs, cheese, and a little egg yolk), plus gentle hand-mixing to ensure maximum juiciness.

Ingredients

- 12 brioche slider buns
- 2 cloves garlic
- 1½ pounds carrots
- ½ ounce chives, divided
- 4 ounces mayonnaise
- 1 lemon
- 1 container nonfat Greek yogurt
- ¼ cup breadcrumbs
- 4 ounces shredded mozzarella cheese
- 10 packets Sriracha, divided
- 1½ pounds ground chicken
- 6 packets unsalted butter

You'll need

- olive oil
- 2 eggs
- kosher salt
- black pepper
- 2 baking sheets
- 12" large pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

To separate an egg, over a small bowl, crack the egg in half. Let the white drain into the bowl, and the yolk settle in half of the shell. Carefully transfer the yolk back and forth between the 2 halves, letting all whites drip off. Place yolk in a medium bowl, then repeat with remaining egg.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking ground chicken to 160°F.

1. Prepare ingredients and make Greek yogurt ranch

Preheat oven to 450°F. Slice buns open horizontally, if they arrived whole. Mince garlic. Rinse carrots; quarter lengthwise, then cut crosswise into 2-inch fries. Rinse chives; thinly slice. Halve lemon. In a medium bowl, whisk together mayonnaise, juice of ½ lemon, ¼ cup Greek yogurt, half of chives, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper. Set aside. Save remaining lemon and yogurt for another use.

2. Form meatballs

Separate 2 eggs, placing yolks in a separate medium bowl (see recipe tip). Discard egg whites or save for an omelet. Add breadcrumbs, mozzarella, 2 packets Sriracha, 1 teaspoon salt, and pepper to bowl with yolks, then add chicken. Using your hands, mix well, then form into 12 equal balls, about 1½ inches thick (this is a great task for an eager kitchen helper). Arrange meatballs on 1 baking sheet. Set aside.

3. Bake carrots and meatballs

On a separate baking sheet, toss carrots with 2 tablespoons olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired, then arrange in a single layer. Transfer baking sheets to oven and bake together until carrot fries are lightly browned and tender and meatballs are cooked through and no longer pink, about 15 minutes.

4. Make Buffalo sauce

While carrots and meatballs bake, heat butter in a large pan over medium heat. When butter is foamy, add garlic and cook, stirring, until fragrant, 1–2 minutes. Remove pan from heat and stir in remaining Sriracha—to save time, try using a pair of kitchen scissors to cut all packets open together. (You could use less Sriracha if you prefer, but a little spiciness is what makes this Buffalo sauce!) Set pan aside.

5. Toast buns

Once baked, add meatballs to pan with Buffalo sauce, still off heat, and toss to fully coat. Divide carrot fries among serving plates. Wipe 1 baking sheet clean, then arrange buns cut-side up. Bake until toasted and light golden, about 3 minutes.

6. Plate meatball sliders

Top bun bottoms with meatballs, spooning over any remaining Buffalo sauce from pan. Spoon over Greek yogurt ranch, reserving any extra for dipping fries. Garnish carrot fries with remaining chives and dig in!
