

MADE FOR SHARING

Balsamic-Fig Shortcakes

with Pistachios and Honey Whipped Cream

We're using the basic formula for an American classic, the strawberry shortcake, but swapping in a tangy-sweet fig compote. Mission figs, named for the Franciscan missionaries who brought them to California, are simmered with white wine and balsamic vinegar until perfectly saucy and sticky. Golden, flaky, homemade biscuits sandwich the fruit, cream whipped with honey, and crunchy pistachios.

30–40 minutes 4 servings 410 calories per serving

Plated.

Ingredients

- 2 ounces dried Mission figs
- ¾ cup flour, divided
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 3 tablespoons sugar, divided
- 1 container heavy cream, divided
- ¼ cup white wine
- ¼ cup balsamic vinegar
- 1 packet honey
- 2 tablespoons pistachios
- 1 parchment paper

You'll need

kosher salt
baking sheet
6" small pot

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Chilled tools make whipping cream a lot easier. If you have a stand or hand mixer, feel free to chill just the bowl.

Cheffy plating tip: For shortcakes and other layered sandwiches, gently leaning the top piece of biscuit or bread off to 1 side (rather than pressing directly on top) helps to show off all the glorious fillings stacked inside.

Questions? Email help@plated.com or call 855-525-2399. Visit plated.me/allergens for more information on dietary restrictions.

1823-4786-4P

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 425°F. Quarter dried figs lengthwise. Place a large bowl and whisk in the refrigerator for whipping cream in Step 5 (see recipe tip). Line a baking sheet with parchment paper. Set aside 1 tablespoon flour in a small bowl and reserve for forming biscuits in Step 3; place remaining flour in a medium bowl for the next step.

2. Make biscuit dough

To medium bowl of flour (not 1 tablespoon set aside), add baking powder, 1½ tablespoons sugar, and ⅛ teaspoon salt and stir to combine. Slowly add ½ cup plus 1 tablespoon heavy cream and stir until just combined, being careful not to overmix (dough should be lumpy).

3. Form and bake biscuits

Sprinkle reserved 1 tablespoon flour onto a clean, dry surface, coating your hands with a thin layer. Divide biscuit dough and form into 4 equal discs, about 2 inches wide x ½ inch thick. Place biscuits on parchment-lined baking sheet, spacing evenly. Bake until lightly browned, 12–13 minutes.

4. Cook balsamic-fig compote

While biscuits bake, in a small pot, stir together white wine, balsamic vinegar, dried figs, remaining sugar, and ¼ cup water to combine. Bring to a boil over high heat, then reduce heat to medium high and simmer, gently pressing figs to break down, until liqiuid is reduced by half and figs are softened, 6–8 minutes. Remove pot from heat.

5. Whip cream

While compote simmers, remove bowl and whisk from refrigerator. Add honey and remaining heavy cream, and whip until thickened and soft peaks form. Chill in refrigerator until ready to serve. Roughly chop pistachios, or leave in bag and gently crush with the bottom of a heavy pan.

6. Plate shortcakes

Let biscuits cool for about 5 minutes, then slice open horizontally. On serving plates, layer biscuit bottoms with balsamic-fig compote and dollops of honey whipped cream. Finish with biscuit tops, stacking off-center and slightly ajar (see recipe tip). Garnish with pistachios and dig in!

Join the Plated community and post your #platedpics!

MADE FOR SHARING