Thai Green Chicken Curry

with Lime, Bok Choy, and Carrots

For tonight's aromatic curry, we're using a cheffy trick to give the dish extra color and smooth texture. We blend Thai green curry paste, ginger, garlic, and coconut milk with cilantro and a handful of bok choy leaves until smooth to turn the curry a vibrant hue. Stir in more creamy coconut milk, plus tender shredded chicken and roasted bok choy and carrots, then finish with a squeeze of lime for brightness.

Ingredients

- 1 cup jasmine rice
- 12 ounces baby bok choy, divided
- 10 ounces carrots
- 4 boneless skinless chicken breasts
- ¼ ounce cilantro, divided
- ¼ ounce ginger
- 2 cloves garlic
- 1 yellow onion
- 2 cans lite coconut milk, divided
- 2 tablespoons green curry paste
- 2 limes

You'll need

- canola oil
- kosher salt
- black pepper
- 6" small pot with lid
- aluminum foil
- baking sheet
- blender or food processor (optional)
- 12" large high-sided pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Vigorously shake the coconut milk cans before opening to avoid a messy splatter.

No blender? Mince ginger, garlic, half of cilantro, and 1 small handful bok choy leaves; place in a medium bowl and stir in curry paste, ¼ cup coconut milk, and 3 tablespoons canola oil to combine. Reserve remaining coconut milk for the next step.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Cook rice

Preheat oven to 450°F. In a small pot, combine rice, 1½ cups water, and ½ teaspoon salt, and bring to a boil over high heat. Stir once, reduce heat to medium low, cover pot, and simmer until water is fully absorbed, 10–12 minutes. Remove pot from heat and let stand, still covered, for 10 minutes. Fluff rice with a fork, then cover again to keep warm until ready to serve.

2. Prepare ingredients

While rice cooks, line a baking sheet with foil. Halve bok choy lengthwise and rinse thoroughly (it tends to hide a lot of dirt between its leaves); cut crosswise into 1-inch pieces, keeping bulbs and leaves separate. Rinse remaining produce. Thinly slice carrots crosswise on a diagonal. Pat chicken dry with paper towel, place on 1 half of prepared sheet, and rub all over with 1 tablespoon canola oil, 1 teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired.

3. Roast chicken and vegetables

Add carrots and bok choy bulbs to other half of sheet; toss with 1 tablespoon canola oil, ¾ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer; roast until chicken is cooked through and no longer pink and vegetables are tender and beginning to brown, 10–12 minutes (move on to Step 4—but don't forget to come back!). Transfer chicken to a plate and set aside to rest, 5 minutes. Then, shred chicken using 2 forks or roughly chop.

4. Blend aromatics

While chicken and vegetables roast, roughly chop cilantro leaves and stems. Trim and discard skin of ginger; roughly chop. Roughly chop garlic. Peel onion and cut into small dice. Open coconut milk (see recipe tip); measure out ¼ cup and add to a blender or food processor, along with curry paste, ginger, garlic, 1 small handful bok choy leaves, half of cilantro, and 3 tablespoons canola oil (see recipe tip). Blend until smooth.

5. Make green curry

Heat 1 tablespoon canola oil in a large high-sided pan over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add onion; sauté, stirring, until beginning to soften, about 3 minutes. Add blended aromatics; cook, stirring, until fragrant, 1–2 minutes. Add remaining coconut milk. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce heat to medium high; simmer until flavors have melded, 4–5 minutes more. Season with ½ tablespoon salt and pepper; remove pan from heat.

6. Plate green chicken curry

If you have a zester and want to infuse your curry with more flavor, zest up to 1 lime into pan with curry, still off heat. Halve limes. Add roasted vegetables, shredded chicken, and juice of 1½ limes to pan with curry (save remaining lime for another recipe). Add remaining bok choy leaves to pot with rice; stir to wilt, then divide among serving bowls. Spoon over Thai green chicken curry. Garnish with remaining cilantro. Dig in!
