White Cheddar Cheeseburgers

with Basil Mayo and Paprika Potato Chips

It's pretty hard to change up a classic cheeseburger, so we're just adding a few upgrades. White Cheddar is sprinkled over the burgers as they finish searing. We add caramelized red onion, then serve with crispy homemade potato chips. The basil-spiked mayo is ideal for dipping the chips or slathering over your sandwich.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

It may seem counterintuitive to add water to the pan with the onion, but the liquid actually helps to slow cooking so the onion softens without burning.

Burger patties tend to puff up when cooked. Creating a shallow dimple in the center of each helps them cook evenly and keep their shape.

USDA recommends cooking ground beef to 160°F.

1. Make basil mayo and prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Roughly chop basil leaves, discarding stems, and place in a small bowl. Add mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon water, and ¼ teaspoon salt; whisk to combine. Slice buns open horizontally, if they arrived whole. Peel onion, halve, and thinly slice. Mince garlic.

2. Bake potato chips

Thinly slice potato crosswise into rounds, place on a baking sheet, and toss with paprika, 1 tablespoon olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer, spacing apart, and bake until golden brown and crispy, 18–20 minutes.

3. Caramelize onion

While potato chips bake, heat 2 teaspoons olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add onion and cook, stirring frequently, until light brown and softened, about 6 minutes. Add ¼ cup water and cook, stirring, until onion is golden and water has evaporated, 4–5 minutes more (see recipe tip). Season with ¼ teaspoon salt, transfer to a plate, and cover with foil to keep warm. Reserve pan, off heat, for Step 5.

4. Form burgers

While onion cooks, in a medium bowl, combine Worcestershire, garlic, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Pat beef dry with paper towel and add to bowl. Using your hands, mix well, then form into 2 equal patties, about 1 inch thick. Using your thumb, create a dimple on top of each (see recipe tip).

5. Sear burgers

Return pan from onion to medium-high heat with 1 teaspoon olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add burgers and sear, without flipping, until browned on bottom, about 4 minutes. Flip, top with white Cheddar, cover pan, and continue searing until cheese is melted and burgers are medium rare, 3–4 minutes more. Remove pan from heat.

6. Toast buns and plate cheeseburgers

Once baked, divide paprika potato chips between serving plates. Arrange buns cut-side down on sheet and bake until toasted, 2–3 minutes. Add bun bottoms to plates with chips and top with white Cheddar cheeseburgers, then caramelized onion, then bun tops. Serve basil mayo alongside for dipping. Dig in!
