Tomato-Chickpea Stew

over Brown Rice with Crispy Shallots

Tonight's recipe is inspired by the many chickpea stews that are popular all over Turkey. Here, we add sautéed zucchini and serve over brown rice for heartiness, then top with crispy fried shallots for texture. A mix of cumin, cayenne, and cinnamon adds warmth to the stew, and will make your kitchen smell as fragrant as a spice stall in one of Turkey's famous bazaars. Grab a spoon and enjoy!

8" medium pot with lid
10" medium high-sided pan
6" small pot

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Brown rice hack: The amount of water isn't indicated because you'll drain the rice, just like pasta, when it's finished cooking.

A pot contains any splatter from the oil as you fry the shallots. Use instead of a pan for a safer fry.

If you're frying the shallots in batches, note that later batches may cook quicker than the first since the oil's already hot.

1. Prepare ingredients

Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse zucchini, halve lengthwise, and cut crosswise on a diagonal into ½-inch slices, discarding ends. Halve lemon. Rinse parsley and roughly chop leaves, discarding stems. Peel shallots and thinly slice into rings. Peel onion, halve, and finely chop. Mince garlic. Drain and rinse chickpeas.

2. Cook brown rice

Season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in brown rice and cook until tender, 22–25 minutes. Drain and return to pot, off heat, then cover to keep warm until ready to serve (see recipe tip).

3. Sauté aromatics and zucchini

While rice cooks, heat 2 teaspoons olive oil in a medium high-sided pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add spice mix, zucchini, onion, garlic, and ¼ teaspoon salt. Cook, stirring, until softened and beginning to brown, 3–4 minutes.

4. Simmer tomato-chickpea stew

Add tomato purée, chickpeas, ½ cup water, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper to pan with aromatics. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce heat to medium and simmer until sauce has thickened slightly and flavors have melded, 8–10 minutes. Remove pan from heat. Add juice of ½ lemon (or use half for less tang, depending on your preferences), saving remaining lemon for a simple vinaigrette. Taste and add salt and pepper as desired.

5. Fry shallots

While stew simmers, heat 3 tablespoons olive oil in a small pot over medium-high heat (see recipe tip). When oil is shimmering, add 1 shallot ring to pot. If it sizzles immediately, keep going; if not, try again once the oil has gotten hotter. Fry all shallots, working in batches and stirring to prevent burning, until lightly browned and crisp, about 5 minutes (see recipe tip). Using a slotted spoon, transfer to a paper towel–lined plate to drain.

6. Plate tomato-chickpea stew

Divide brown rice between serving bowls and spoon over tomato-chickpea stew. Garnish with crispy shallots and parsley. Dig in!
