Thai Cod Curry

with Bok Choy and Toasted Coconut

We love customizing creamy Thai curries with whatever vegetables and proteins we're craving at the moment; tonight's version spotlights cod. The fish is roasted until tender, then flaked over the creamy, steaming blend of coconut milk, red curry paste, ginger, garlic, and bok choy. It's all joined by lime-laced jasmine rice and garnished with toasted coconut.

MEALS WORTH MAKING

Ingredients

- ½ cup jasmine rice
- 6 ounces baby bok choy
- 1 lime
- ⅛ ounce ginger
- 1 clove garlic
- ½ ounce coconut flakes
- ½ tablespoon red curry paste
- ⅓ cup shredded carrots
- 1 can coconut milk
- 10 ounces cod

You'll need

canola oil kosher salt
black pepper
6" small pot with lid
12" large high-sided pan aluminum foil baking sheet

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

The skin of the lime (and other citrus fruits) is home to the highest concentration of aromatic oils, so chefs use zest to add bright flavor and a little texture. It's easier and safer to zest the lime before cutting and juicing.

Coconut milk solids naturally separate from the liquids during transit, but come together during cooking. Vigorously shake the can before opening, or pierce the solids with a spoon before pouring into the pan to avoid a messy splatter.

USDA recommends cooking fish to 145°F.

1. Cook rice

Preheat oven to 425°F. In a small pot, combine rice, ¾ cup water, and ¼ teaspoon salt, and bring to a boil over high heat. Stir once, reduce heat to medium low, cover pot, and simmer until water is fully absorbed, 10–12 minutes. Remove pot from heat and let stand, still covered, for 10 minutes. Fluff rice with a fork, then cover again to keep warm until ready to serve.

2. Prepare ingredients

While rice cooks, halve bok choy lengthwise and rinse thoroughly (it tends to hide a lot of dirt between its leaves); cut crosswise into 1-inch pieces, keeping bulbs and leaves separate. If you have a zester and want to infuse your rice with even more flavor, rinse lime and zest up to ½ (see recipe tip), then halve. Trim and discard skin of ginger and mince. Mince garlic.

3. Toast coconut and sauté aromatics

Place coconut flakes in a large high-sided pan over medium heat. Toast, stirring frequently, until golden, about 5 minutes. Transfer to a small bowl and set aside for serving. Wipe pan clean and place over medium-high heat with 1 tablespoon canola oil. When oil is shimmering, add red curry paste, ginger, and garlic; sauté, stirring, until fragrant, 1 minute.

4. Simmer curry

To pan with aromatics, still over medium-high heat, add carrots and bok choy bulbs. Cook, stirring, until softened, 2 minutes more. Open coconut milk (see recipe tip) and add to pan, along with 1½ cups water. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce heat to medium; simmer until flavors have melded and curry has thickened slightly, 7–10 minutes. Remove pan from heat.

5. Roast cod and finish curry

While curry simmers, line a baking sheet with foil. Pat cod dry with paper towel, place on prepared sheet, and rub all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Roast until cod is opaque and cooked through, 7–10 minutes. Meanwhile, once curry has thickened, add bok choy leaves and juice of ½ lime to pan, still off heat; stir to wilt leaves slightly. Taste and season with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired.

6. Plate Thai cod curry

To pot with rice, add lime zest (if using). Stir to combine, then divide between serving bowls. Using a fork, flake roasted cod into large pieces. Spoon Thai red curry into bowls with rice and top with cod. Garnish with toasted coconut. Cut remaining lime into wedges and serve alongside for squeezing over, if desired. Dig in!
