White Pizza

with Broccolini, Ricotta, and Basil

The key to a luxuriously creamy white sauce? Go back to the classics. This version is a riff on French Mornay, a sauce in which milk is thickened with a butter-flour mixture, then finished with lots of cheese—we're using mozzarella and provolone. It tops a crispy crust, along with sautéed broccolini, dollops of ricotta, Parmesan, and basil.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

We recommend letting the pizza dough soften for at least 15 minutes so it's easier to roll out.

Try lifting the dough with your hands, letting gravity help stretch it down. Using your fingers, gently pull the edges, feeling for thicker areas so the dough doesn't tear.

Lightly toasting flour in butter before adding the liquid and cheeses will help the sauce thicken.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Remove pizza dough from bag and let soften at room temperature (see recipe tip). Rinse all produce. Cut broccolini into ½-inch pieces. Mince garlic. In a small bowl, set aside 2 tablespoons flour. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper and rub with 1 teaspoon olive oil. Sprinkle remaining flour onto a clean, dry surface, coating a rolling pin or your hands with a thin layer.

2. Parbake crust

Add dough to floured surface and roll or stretch into a rectangular shape, rotating frequently and working from center to edges, until ¼-inch thick (see recipe tip). Add dough to prepared sheet, gently stretching to reach edges of sheet. Bake until crust is lightly browned and beginning to crisp, 9–11 minutes. Meanwhile, in a small bowl, stir together half of ricotta, half of Parmesan, and black pepper (save remaining ricotta for another recipe).

3. Sauté broccolini

Heat 1 teaspoon olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add broccolini and sauté, stirring, until bright green and tender, 3–4 minutes. Remove pan from heat and season with ¼ teaspoon salt and black pepper as desired. Transfer to a paper towel–lined plate (to remove any excess moisture) and set aside until Step 5. Wipe pan clean for the next step.

4. Make white sauce

Heat butter in pan from broccolini over medium heat. Add garlic and reserved flour; cook, stirring, until garlic is fragrant and flour is lightly browned, 1 minute (see recipe tip). Whisking constantly, add milk and cook until thickened, 2–3 minutes more. Remove pan from heat; whisk in shredded mozzarella and provolone, 1 teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired to combine.

5. Assemble and bake pizza

Spread white sauce over crust, leaving a ½-inch border. Scatter over broccolini, then dollop over ricotta mixture. Bake until sauce is lightly browned, 8–10 minutes. Use any downtime while pizza bakes to get ahead on dishes.

6. Plate white pizza

Stack basil leaves and thinly slice crosswise, discarding stems. Cut white pizza into slices and divide between serving plates. Sprinkle over crushed red pepper (skip or use half for less heat) and remaining Parmesan. Garnish with basil and dig in!
