Hoisin Duck Buns

with Ginger-Sesame Slaw and Baked Carrot Fries

This twist on classic Chinese bao starts with steamed buns, a hack we use to cut out the grunt work of making them from scratch. They're stuffed with mini duck patties and hoisin, a thick soybean-chile sauce that adds umami and sweetness. One big batch of ginger-sesame aioli does twice the work: as a creamy dressing for the cabbage slaw that's piled into the bao, and as a dipping sauce for roasted carrots.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

You're probably used to mixing ground meat with salt and pepper before forming burgers. Here, the patties are only seasoned on the outside so that they're not too salty throughout, but still get a delicious crust when seared.

Save remaining buns for another recipe. We like stuffing them with scrambled eggs and scallion.

USDA recommends cooking ground duck to 160°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Quarter carrots lengthwise, then cut crosswise into 2-inch fries. Trim and discard scallion roots and thinly slice, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens. Trim and discard skin of ginger and mince. Mince garlic.

2. Bake carrot fries

On a baking sheet, toss carrots with ½ tablespoon olive oil and ¼ teaspoon salt. Arrange in a single layer and bake until carrot fries are lightly browned and tender, about 15 minutes.

3. Make aioli and dress slaw

While fries bake, in a large bowl, whisk together mayonnaise, sesame oil, rice wine vinegar, ginger, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired to make aioli. Transfer half of ginger-sesame aioli to a small bowl and reserve for serving. Add slaw mix to large bowl with remaining aioli and toss to coat. Set aside.

4. Form hoisin duck patties

In a large bowl, combine garlic, scallion whites and light greens, and 1 tablespoon hoisin (save remainder for serving). Pat duck dry with paper towel and add to bowl. Using your hands, mix well, then form into 6 equal patties, about 1 inch thick. Using your thumb, create a dimple on top of each. Season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired (see recipe tip).

5. Warm buns and sear duck

Place 6 buns on a piece of foil and loosely wrap to create a pouch, then place in oven to warm through, about 3 minutes (see recipe tip). Meanwhile, heat ½ tablespoon olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add hoisin duck patties and sear until browned and medium rare, 2–3 minutes per side. Remove pan from heat.

6. Plate hoisin duck buns

Toss baked carrots on sheet with scallion dark greens. Drizzle remaining hoisin over hoisin duck patties, then tuck into warmed buns with ginger-sesame slaw. Enjoy with baked carrot fries and reserved aioli for dipping.
