Burgers au Poivre

with Truffle Fries

Burger night gets a serious upgrade with a French-inspired spin. We take the sauce from traditional steak au poivre—cracked black peppercorns, sherry, Dijon, and cream—and slather half over seared beef patties. The rest is served alongside for dunking crisp, golden French fries (also known as frites) that are dusted with truffle zest for incredible flavor and aroma.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Ground pepper from your pantry seasons the fries and burgers. We're sending cracked black pepper to add texture and extra spice to the sherry-cream sauce. Feel free to dial back the seasoning elsewhere if desired so the peppery sauce can star.

Burger patties tend to puff up when cooked. Creating a shallow dimple in the center of each helps them cook evenly and keep their shape.

USDA recommends cooking ground beef to 160°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Halve potato lengthwise; cut lengthwise into ¼-inch slices, then cut lengthwise again into ¼-inch fries. Strip thyme leaves, discarding stems, then mince. Peel shallot and mince. Slice buns open horizontally, if they arrived whole, and wrap in foil. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper.

2. Bake fries

On prepared baking sheet, toss fries with 2 teaspoons olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and ground black pepper as desired (see recipe tip). Arrange in a single layer and bake until browned and tender, 20–25 minutes. Then, sprinkle over truffle zest and toss to combine.

3. Form burgers

While fries bake, in a medium bowl, combine thyme, half of shallot, ½ teaspoon salt, and ground black pepper as desired. Pat beef dry with paper towel and add to bowl. Using your hands, mix well, then form into 2 equal patties, about ½ inch thick. Using your thumb, create a dimple on top of each (see recipe tip).

4. Cook burgers

Heat 1 teaspoon olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add burgers and sear, without flipping, until browned on bottom, about 4 minutes. Flip and continue searing until browned and medium rare, 3–4 minutes more. Transfer burgers to a plate and set aside to rest, reserving pan for the next step. Meanwhile, place foil-wrapped buns in oven (with fries) to warm through, 5–7 minutes.

5. Make au Poivre sauce

Return pan from burgers to medium-high heat with 1 teaspoon olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add cracked black peppercorns and remaining shallot; cook, stirring, until softened, 1 minute. Stir in sherry and mustard; cook until liquid is slightly reduced, 1–2 minutes. Add heavy cream and cook, stirring, until thickened, 1–2 minutes more. Season with ⅛ teaspoon salt.

6. Plate burgers au poivre

Pat arugula dry with paper towel, place in a medium bowl with ½ tablespoon olive oil and ¼ teaspoon salt, and toss to coat. Divide bun bottoms between serving plates. Layer with burgers, then half of au poivre sauce, then arugula. Finish with bun tops. Serve with truffle fries and remaining sauce for dipping. Dig in!
