Charred Lemon Chicken

over Sun-Dried Tomato Pasta

Charring lemon is an easy way to add concentrated, smoky-sweet tang to any dish. Here, we sear lemon halves cut-side down in the same pan as chicken breasts and whole oregano sprigs to infuse the meat with extra flavor. Then, the juice of the charred lemons is blended with sun-dried tomatoes, garlic, butter, and white wine to add depth and complexity to a sauce for angel hair pasta.

MEALS WORTH MAKING

Ingredients

¼ ounce oregano, divided
6 ounces sun-dried tomatoes, divided
2 lemons
3 cloves garlic
4 boneless skinless chicken breasts
12 ounces angel hair pasta
½ cup white wine
5 packets unsalted butter

You'll need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper
10" large pot
12" large high-sided pan
blender or food processor (optional)

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

If all the chicken doesn't fit in the pan at once, work in 2 batches, adding half the whole oregano sprigs and 2 lemon halves to each batch, as well as more oil, as needed.

No blender? Finely chop remaining sun-dried tomatoes, then stir in lemon zest (if using) and olive oil to combine. In this case, you'll skip the ⅓ cup reserved pasta cooking water—keep in mind you may need to add less of this water in Step 5. The texture may be different, but it'll still taste delicious.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Bring a large pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse all produce. Set aside half of whole oregano sprigs for the next step; strip remaining oregano leaves, discarding stems. Thinly slice sun-dried tomatoes; reserve ¼ cup for garnish and set aside. If you have a zester and want to infuse your sauce with even more flavor, zest up to 1 lemon, then halve lemons. Thinly slice garlic.

2. Cook chicken

Pat chicken dry with paper towel; season all over with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large high-sided pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chicken; top with whole oregano sprigs (see recipe tip). Cook until browned on bottom, 6 minutes; flip and add lemon halves to pan, cut-side down. Cook until lemons are charred and chicken is no longer pink, 6 minutes more.

3. Cook angel hair pasta

While chicken cooks, season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in angel hair pasta and cook until al dente, 4–5 minutes. Reserve 1 cup pasta cooking water, then drain and set aside. Meanwhile, once chicken is cooked, remove and discard whole oregano sprigs from pan, then transfer chicken and charred lemons to a plate and set aside to rest, leaving behind oil in pan. Reserve pan, off heat, for the next step.

4. Make sun-dried tomato purée

Use the remaining downtime while the pasta cooks to set the table. Then, in a blender or food processor, combine lemon zest (if using), remaining sun-dried tomatoes (not reserved ¼ cup), ⅓ cup reserved pasta cooking water, and 1 tablespoon olive oil; blend until smooth (see recipe tip). Set aside. Place pan from chicken over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add garlic; sauté, stirring, until soft, about 1 minute.

5. Finish sun-dried tomato pasta

Add white wine to pan with garlic, still over medium heat. Cook, scraping up browned bits from bottom of pan, until liquid is reduced by half, 2–3 minutes. Stir in butter, sun-dried tomato purée, and juice of 1½ charred lemons; remove pan from heat. Add cooked angel hair to pan with sauce. Adding 1 tablespoon at a time, stir in remaining reserved pasta cooking water until sauce is silky and clings to noodles.

6. Plate chicken and pasta

Cut rested chicken into ¼-inch slices. Divide sun-dried tomato pasta among serving plates. Top with sliced chicken. Garnish with oregano leaves and reserved sun-dried tomatoes. Cut remaining charred lemon into wedges and serve alongside for squeezing over. Enjoy!
