Cashew Chicken

with Bok Choy and Garlic Rice

Tonight's Encore Recipe is a twist on a Chinese-American favorite. We're preserving the original thick-and-savory sauce, as well as the mixed textures of stir-fried chicken and crunchy vegetables, but adding a few cheffy techniques. To make the garlic oil that infuses the chicken with aromatic flavor, thin slices of garlic are fried in a little canola oil—they then become the crisp garnish for steamed jasmine rice.

Plated.

Ingredients

- ¾ cup jasmine rice
- 8 ounces baby bok choy, divided
- ¼ cup water chestnuts
- 3 tablespoons roasted salted cashews, divided
- 3 cloves garlic, divided
- ¼ ounce ginger
- 2 boneless skinless chicken breasts
- 1 tablespoon sesame oil
- 1 tablespoon rice wine vinegar
- 2 packets gluten-free soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons gluten-free oyster sauce

You'll need

canola oil kosher salt
black pepper
6" small pot with lid
10" medium high-sided pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Bok choy tends to hide a lot of dirt between its leaves, so rinse thoroughly between the layers before slicing.

Pouring hot oil down the drain may damage your pipes. Instead, pour it into a heatproof container or bottle once it's cooled slightly, and dispose in the garbage.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Cook rice

In a small pot, combine rice, 1¼ cups water, and ¼ teaspoon salt, and bring to a boil over high heat. Stir once, reduce heat to medium low, cover pot, and simmer until water is fully absorbed, 10–12 minutes. Remove pot from heat and let stand, still covered, for 10 minutes. Fluff rice with a fork, then cover again to keep warm until Step 6.

2. Prepare ingredients

While rice cooks, halve bok choy lengthwise and rinse thoroughly (see recipe tip), then cut crosswise into ½-inch pieces, keeping bulbs and leaves separate. Roughly chop water chestnuts. Roughly chop cashews, or leave in bag and gently crush with the bottom of a heavy pan. Thinly slice 2 garlic cloves; mince remainder. Trim and discard skin of ginger and mince.

3. Fry garlic chips

Heat 2 tablespoons canola oil in a medium high-sided pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add 1 garlic slice. If it sizzles immediately, keep going; if not, try again once oil is hotter. Fry all garlic slices, stirring often to prevent burning, until light golden and crisp, 1–2 minutes. Using a slotted spoon, transfer garlic chips to a paper towel–lined plate to drain. Reserve garlic oil in pan, off heat, for the next step.

4. Cook chicken

Pat chicken dry with paper towel, halve lengthwise, then cut crosswise into ¼-inch pieces. Season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper. Place pan with garlic oil over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add chicken in a single layer and cook, stirring halfway through, until no longer pink, about 6 minutes total. Remove pan from heat and, using slotted spoon, transfer chicken to a plate. Discard excess fat from pan (see recipe tip).

5. Cook vegetables

Wipe pan from chicken clean and add sesame oil over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add minced garlic and ginger. Sauté, stirring, until fragrant, about 30 seconds. Add bok choy bulbs and cook until beginning to soften, 2–3 minutes. Add water chestnuts. Stir in bok choy leaves to wilt, about 30 seconds. Add rice wine vinegar, soy sauce, brown sugar, and oyster sauce and simmer until thickened slightly, 1–2 minutes more.

6. Finish and plate cashew chicken

Remove pan with vegetables from heat. Add half of cashews, then add cooked chicken and stir to coat with sauce. Add garlic chips to pot with cooked rice and stir to combine, then divide garlic rice between serving plates. Top with cashew chicken and garnish with remaining cashews. Dig in!
