Meatball Parm Heroes

with Fire-Roasted Tomato Sauce and Charred Broccoli

There's something irresistible about a crispy, saucy meatball hero. In this repeat favorite, we give the comfort dish a few cheffy upgrades, swapping out the marinara for garlicky, fire-roasted tomato sauce, and blending the meatballs with ricotta, Parmesan, parsley, and breadcrumbs. Layered with mozzarella and provolone and toasted until melty, these sandwiches prove that not all heroes wear capes.

- kosher salt
- black pepper
- aluminum foil
- 12" large pan
- baking sheet

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

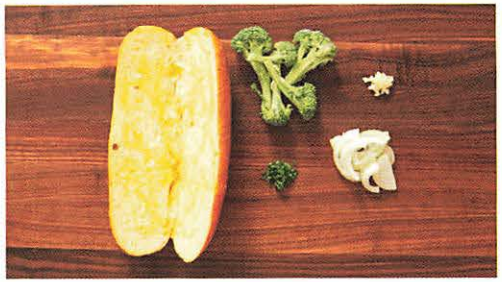

If you have any remaining stem left over from the broccoli, feel free to peel it and enjoy it as a snack.

The foil will hold your sandwiches in place after they're filled with toppings. Unwrap the rolls just enough so that you can stuff them while still maintaining their shape.

USDA recommends cooking ground beef to 160°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse broccoli and cut into 1 inch–wide florets with long stems (see recipe tip). Rinse parsley and roughly chop leaves, discarding stems. Mince garlic. Peel onion, halve, and thinly slice. Slice rolls open horizontally, splitting partway but leaving 1 edge intact. Drizzle cut sides with olive oil and top with half of Parmesan and half of garlic. Close rolls and wrap each in foil. Set aside for Step 4.

4. Char broccoli

While meatballs brown, pat broccoli very dry with paper towel and place on a baking sheet. Toss broccoli with 1½ tablespoons olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer, spacing apart, and roast until cooked through and very charred, about 15 minutes. Meanwhile, place rolls in oven to warm through until Step 6.

2. Form meatballs

In a large bowl, combine breadcrumbs, 1 tablespoon ricotta, half of parsley, remaining Parmesan, 1 egg, ½ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired. Pat beef, pork, and veal dry with paper towel, then add to bowl with meatball ingredients. Using your hands, mix well, then form into 8 equal balls, about 2 inches thick. Save remaining ricotta for a snack (we love it on toast with honey).

5. Finish meatballs

Add onion to pan from meatballs over medium-high heat. Cook until softened, about 5 minutes. Add crushed red pepper (skip or use half for less heat) and remaining garlic. Cook until fragrant, 1 minute. Add fire-roasted tomatoes and cook until slightly reduced, about 4 minutes. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and black pepper. Return meatballs to pan, turning to coat. Cook until sauce has thickened, 3 minutes.

3. Brown meatballs

Heat 2 teaspoons olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add meatballs and sear, flipping occasionally, until browned on all sides, about 10 minutes total. Transfer to a paper towel–lined plate to drain and set aside. Discard almost all of excess fat from pan, leaving behind a thin layer for Step 5 (pour the cooled fat into a heatproof container, then dispose in the garbage).

6. Toast and plate heroes

Partially unwrap rolls to reveal cut centers, keeping bottoms and sides cradled with foil (see recipe tip). Top rolls with meatballs, spoon over sauce, and sprinkle over mozzarella and provolone. Return to oven and bake until cheese is melted and bubbling, 5 minutes. Garnish heroes with remaining parsley and serve with charred broccoli. Dig in!
