Chicken Milanese

with Braised Escarole, White Beans, and Ricotta Salata

Tonight, we're riffing on one of our favorite Italian preparations in which meat is pounded, dredged, and pan-fried for a crispy crust. Milanese typically uses a simple flour, egg, and breadcrumb breading, but we're adding Parmesan and minced garlic for extra flavor. Tender white beans join sliced garlic and escarole, a lettuce-like vegetable in the chicory family, for a flavorful braise in butter, lemon, and white wine.

Plated.

Ingredients

- 1 cup white beans
- 1 lemon, divided
- 1 head escarole
- ⅛ ounce parsley
- 3 cloves garlic, divided
- 2 packets unsalted butter
- 3 tablespoons white wine
- ⅓ cup rice flour
- ¼ cup gluten-free breadcrumbs
- ½ ounce grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 boneless skinless chicken breasts
- 2 ounces ricotta salata

You'll need

- olive oil
- 1 egg
- kosher salt
- black pepper
- 12" large pan with lid
- plastic wrap
- meat mallet (optional)
- 10" medium nonstick pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

During cooking, escarole releases moisture and loses volume. Work 1 handful at a time as the leaves shrink.

Rub a little water on your work surface, under the bottom piece of plastic, to keep it from shifting while you pound the chicken.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Rinse beans. Halve lemon and set aside 1 half for the next step; cut remainder into wedges for serving. Tear escarole leaves into bite-size pieces, discarding tough ribs and root end, then rinse thoroughly (it tends to hide a lot of dirt between its leaves!). Rinse parsley and roughly chop leaves, discarding stems. Thinly slice 2 garlic cloves; mince remainder.

2. Braise escarole and beans

Heat butter in a large pan over medium-high heat. When butter is foamy, add sliced garlic and cook until golden and fragrant, about 1 minute. Add beans and cook, stirring, to warm through, 2–3 minutes. Add wine and escarole (see recipe tip) and cook to wilt greens, 3–5 minutes more. Squeeze over juice of ½ lemon and season with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Remove pan from heat. Cover to keep warm.

3. Prepare breading

Pour rice flour onto a large plate and season with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. In a large shallow bowl, whisk 1 egg. On a separate large plate, stir together breadcrumbs, Parmesan, and minced garlic.

4. Pound and bread chicken

Pat chicken dry with paper towel and place between 2 large pieces plastic wrap. Using a meat mallet or heavy pan, pound to ¼-inch thickness (see recipe tip). Season chicken all over with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Dredge chicken in rice flour, shaking off excess. Dip in egg, allowing excess to drip off. Dredge in Parmesan-garlic breadcrumbs, pressing to adhere.

5. Cook chicken

Heat 2 tablespoons olive oil in a medium nonstick pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chicken and sear until crust is browned and chicken is cooked through and no longer pink, 2–4 minutes per side. Transfer chicken to a paper towel–lined plate to drain.

6. Plate chicken Milanese

Divide braised escarole and white beans and chicken Milanese between serving plates. Crumble ricotta salata over top, garnish with parsley, and serve with lemon wedges for squeezing over. Buon appetito!
