- ½ ounce coconut oil

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

The coconut is already shredded, but chopping the pieces down further helps them distribute evenly in the brownies.

No microwave? No problem. Heat butter, coconut oil, and remaining chocolate in a small pot over low heat, stirring frequently, until melted.

Placing the tin on a baking sheet helps stabilize the brownies as they bake for easy transfer to the oven and even cooking.

Refrigerate any unclaimed brownies in an airtight container for up to 3 days.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 350°F. Roughly chop 2 tablespoons shredded coconut (see recipe tip), reserving remainder for Step 4. Roughly chop half of dark chocolate for Step 3; place remainder in a large heatproof bowl, then add butter and coconut oil. Microwave in 30-second intervals, stirring in between, until completely melted (see recipe tip).

2. Prepare brownie batter

To bowl with melted chocolate, add sugar and whisk vigorously until mixture is smooth and fully combined, 1–2 minutes. Whisk in vanilla and 2 eggs to combine.

3. Finish brownie batter

To bowl with egg mixture, add flour, cocoa powder, chopped coconut, chopped dark chocolate, and ½ teaspoon salt. Stir until just combined, being careful not to overmix.

4. Assemble brownies

Reshape aluminum tin, if bent, then rub with 1 teaspoon canola oil to coat. Place prepared tin on a baking sheet (see recipe tip). Pour brownie batter into tin, spreading evenly. Sprinkle over remaining shredded coconut in an even layer, gently pressing to adhere.

5. Bake brownies

Bake brownies until coconut is golden and a toothpick or sharp knife inserted in the middle comes out clean, 19–20 minutes (the coconut can burn quickly towards the end of baking, so be sure to keep a close eye on the brownies). Use this downtime to get a head start on cleanup, or enjoy the sweet smells filling your kitchen.

6. Plate dark chocolate brownies

Once baked, set brownies aside to cool, about 10 minutes. Slice into 2-inch squares, then carefully remove from tin. Enjoy warm!
