Chicken Parmesan Melts

with Tomato and Basil

Tonight's open-faced melts combine the melty, gooey goodness of a grilled cheese with the crispy crust and tomato sauce of chicken Parmesan. We pound the chicken thin, then dredge in egg and panko and sear until crispy. It's layered with garlicky tomato sauce and mozzarella, then broiled until the cheese is melty and bubbling and served over buttery brioche. Prefer not to use your broiler? No worries—we've got tips for using your regular oven.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

You'll broil the chicken and mozzarella in Step 5, so arranging the rack in the middle of the oven helps prevent burning. If you prefer not to use your broiler, no worries—simply increase heat to 500°F at the end of Step 4, and continue cooking as instructed.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Arrange an oven rack in middle of oven, then preheat to 450°F (see recipe tip). Rinse all produce. Thinly slice basil leaves, discarding stems. Quarter tomatoes. Mince garlic. In a medium bowl, stir together tomato purée, garlic, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper to combine; set sauce aside for Step 4. Pat chicken dry with paper towel and place between 2 large pieces plastic wrap. Using a meat mallet or heavy pan, pound to ¼-inch thickness.

2. Dredge chicken

Place flour on a large plate and season with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. In a large shallow bowl or baking dish, whisk 2 eggs. Place breadcrumbs on a separate large plate. Season chicken all over with ¾ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Dredge chicken in flour, shaking off excess. Dip in egg, allowing excess to drip off. Dredge in breadcrumbs, pressing to adhere.

3. Cook chicken

Heat 3 tablespoons olive oil in a large nonstick pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chicken. Sear, working in batches and adding oil in between as needed, until crust is browned and chicken is cooked through and no longer pink, 2–4 minutes per side. Transfer chicken to a paper towel–lined plate to drain.

4. Toast brioche

While chicken cooks, line a baking sheet with foil. Add brioche slices in a single layer and drizzle with olive oil. Bake until beginning to crisp, 3–4 minutes, then flip. Top each slice with 1 tablespoon sauce, spreading evenly. Return to oven and bake until sauce is warmed through, 2–3 minutes more. Transfer brioche to serving plates, reserving baking sheet for the next step. Turn on broiler.

5. Broil chicken and mozzarella

Cut chicken into ¼-inch slices. Once brioche is toasted, add sliced chicken to reserved baking sheet (try to keep each sliced breast intact to make transferring to the brioche easier). Top with remaining sauce, then mozzarella. Broil, watching carefully to prevent burning, until cheese is melted and bubbling, 3–4 minutes.

6. Plate chicken Parmesan melts

Top toasted brioche on serving plates with chicken and sprinkle over Parmesan. In a small bowl, toss tomatoes with 1 tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired, then spoon over chicken. Garnish with basil. Enjoy!
