Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

While it cooks, pasta releases starches into the boiling water. Adding some reserved pasta water to the sauce in Step 6 will help it cling to the noodles. It's easiest to reserve this water in a liquid measuring cup, if you have one.

Cooking with a helper tonight? They can blend the butter and flour in Step 2, then stir in the pasta cooking water in Step 6.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

1. Cook chicken

Halve butter; place 1 piece in a small bowl. Set aside to soften at room temperature. Bring a large pot of water to a boil over high heat. Pat chicken dry with paper towel; season with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add chicken; sear until no longer pink, 6 minutes per side. Transfer to a plate; wipe pan clean and reserve, off heat, for Step 4.

2. Prepare ingredients

While chicken cooks, rinse all produce. Roughly chop parsley leaves, discarding stems. Thinly slice garlic. Add flour to bowl with softened butter and, using your fingers, knead and blend to form a smooth paste (this will help the sauce thicken when stirred into the milk in Step 5).

3. Cook fettuccine and tomatoes

Season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in fettuccine and cook for 7 minutes. Then, stir in whole grape tomatoes and continue cooking until pasta is al dente and tomatoes are bursting, 3–4 minutes more. Reserve ½ cup pasta cooking water (see recipe tip), then drain fettuccine and tomatoes and return to pot, off heat. Set aside for Step 5.

4. Sauté aromatics

While fettuccine and tomatoes cook, place pan from chicken over medium heat with remaining butter. When butter is foamy, add garlic and sauté, stirring frequently, until softened, about 30 seconds. Stand back from the pan and carefully add white wine (this can generate a lot of steam). Cook, stirring, until liquid is reduced by half, about 1 minute more.

5. Finish fettuccine Alfredo

Increase heat under pan with garlic to medium high, then add milk, ¾ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Bring to a boil, then whisk in butter-flour paste until dissolved, 30 seconds. Reduce heat to medium and cook, whisking constantly, until thickened, 1–2 minutes more. Remove pan from heat and whisk in Parmesan to combine. To pot with fettuccine and tomatoes, still off heat, add Alfredo sauce; toss to coat.

6. Plate chicken fettuccine

Cut rested chicken into ¼-inch slices, then add to pot with fettuccine Alfredo. Toss to combine. Adding 1 tablespoon at a time, stir in reserved pasta cooking water until sauce is silky and clings to noodles. Taste and add salt and pepper as desired. Divide among serving plates, garnish with parsley, and dig in!
