Salmon and Bok Choy Stir-Fry

over Brown Rice

Any cook, from restaurant to home kitchen, has a signature dish—something they're most known for, at the top of the dinner request list. For Chef Elana's mother, that recipe is "[fill in the blank] in the wok." Our wok-free tribute highlights salmon, bok choy, broccoli, and carrots in a simplified stir-fry. Tossed in a salty-sweet sauce and scooped up with brown rice, this could become your calling card, too.

Ingredients

- 8 ounces baby bok choy, divided
- 8 ounces broccoli
- 1 scallion
- 1 clove garlic
- ½ ounce ginger
- 1 cup brown rice
- 2 fillets wild Alaskan salmon
- 1 tablespoon sesame oil, divided
- 3 tablespoons oyster sauce
- 3 packets gluten-free soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons rice wine vinegar
- ¼ cup shredded carrots

You'll Need

kosher salt
black pepper
8" medium pot
10" medium pan

Recipe Tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Brown rice hack: The amount of water isn't indicated because you'll drain the rice like you do with pasta when it's finished cooking.

Sautéing whole ginger with vegetables infuses them with aromatic flavor, but we suggest removing and discarding the whole knob before adding the salmon.

USDA recommends cooking fish to 145°F.

1. Prepare Ingredients

Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat (see Recipe Tip). Rinse all produce thoroughly—bok choy tends to hide dirt between its leaves. Halve bok choy lengthwise, then cut crosswise into 1-inch pieces, keeping bulbs and leaves separate. Cut broccoli into 1-inch florets, discarding tough stem. Trim and discard scallion root and thinly slice. Mince garlic. Trim and discard skin of ginger.

2. Cook Rice

Season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in rice and cook until tender, 22-25 minutes. Drain and set aside.

3. Sear Salmon

While rice cooks, pat salmon dry with paper towel and season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Heat half of sesame oil in a medium pan over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add salmon flesh-side down and sear until golden on bottom, 5 minutes. Flip and sear on opposite side until cooked through and opaque, 3-5 minutes more. Transfer salmon to a plate, reserving pan for cooking vegetables, and set aside.

4. Cook Vegetables and Make Stir-Fry Sauce

Wipe pan from salmon clean and add remaining sesame oil over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add bok choy bulbs, broccoli, garlic, and whole knob ginger. Cook, stirring, until vegetables are softened, about 8 minutes. Meanwhile, in a small bowl, whisk together oyster sauce, soy sauce, and rice wine vinegar, then set aside.

5. Finish Stir-Fry and Flake Salmon

After 8 minutes of vegetables cooking, stir in carrots, bok choy leaves, and stir-fry sauce. Simmer until sauce is thickened, 3-4 minutes. Remove and discard ginger, then remove pan from heat (see Recipe Tip). Remove and discard skin from salmon. Using a fork, flake fish into large pieces. Add salmon to pan with vegetables and stir gently to coat with sauce.

6. Plate Stir-Fry

Serve salmon and bok choy stir-fry over brown rice. Garnish with scallion and dig in!
