Cooking Steps

Prepare ingredients
Preheat oven to 450ºF. Rinse all produce. Cut butternut squash to ¼-inch pieces, if needed. Strip rosemaryleaves, discarding stems, then mince. Slice baguettecrosswise into ¼-inch slices—you should get about 12. Place pistachios on a small piece of foil. Bring edges of foil together and seal to form a pouch.

Roast squash and grapes
On 1 half of a baking sheet, toss squash with 2 teaspoons olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer. On other half of sheet, toss grapes and rosemary with 1½ tablespoons olive oil and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add pistachio pouch to baking sheet. Roast until pistachios are toasted, squash is tender, and grapes soften and begin to burst, 12-15 minutes.

Toast crostini
While squash and grapes roast, on a separate baking sheet, arrange baguette slices in a single layer. Drizzle over olive oil and season with salt and pepper as desired.
Toast crostini (with squash and grapes) until light golden, 2 minutes. Meanwhile, cut each Brie round into 6 thin slices.

Finish crostini and mash grapes
Once toasted, top crostini evenly with Brie. Return to oven and toast until cheese is melted, 4-6 minutes. Once roasted, remove squash and grapes from oven. Carefully open pistachio pouch and set aside to cool slightly.
Drizzle half of balsamic glaze (save remainder for dressing) over roasted grapes on sheet and, using a fork, gently mash to release their juices.

Make spinach salad
In a large bowl, whisk together remaining balsamic glaze, 1 tablespoon olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired to combine. Finely chop pistachios. Pat spinach dry with paper towel and add to bowl with dressing, along with roasted squash and half of pistachios, and toss to combine.

Plate grape and Brie crostini
Divide butternut, pistachio, and spinach salad between serving plates. Top Brie crostini with roasted grapes and their juices and garnish with remaining pistachios. Serve with salad. Pour a glass of wine and toast to the new year!
