Beef and Broccoli

with Jasmine Rice and Pine Nut–Soy Vinaigrette

Tonight's repeat favorite is a transformation of a Chinese-American takeout staple. Also known as gai lan, Chinese broccoli is more characteristic of Chinese cuisine than the tree-like florets commonly seen in this dish. Here, it's sautéed with scallions in the pan drippings from the steak, holding onto as much rich, meaty flavor as possible.

Plated.

Ingredients

- 1 cup jasmine rice
- 12 ounces Chinese broccoli
- ⅛ ounce cilantro
- 2 scallions, divided
- 1 clove garlic
- 3 tablespoons pine nuts
- 3 packets gluten-free soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons red wine vinegar
- 1 packet honey
- ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 3 steaks

You'll need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper
6" small pot with lid
10" medium pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Pine nuts can burn quickly, so keep an eye on them and stir frequently.

Soy sauce can be salty, so be sure to taste your vinaigrette before adding any extra salt. Adding a little at a time and tasting between can help prevent over-salting.

Cutting meat against the grain ensures tenderness. Find the direction of the grain (muscle fibers) and slice across it, rather than parallel.

USDA recommends cooking beef to 145°F.

1. Cook rice

In a small pot, combine rice, 1½ cups water, and ½ teaspoon salt, and bring to a boil over high heat. Stir once, reduce heat to medium low, cover pot, and simmer until water is fully absorbed, 10–12 minutes. Remove pot from heat and let stand, still covered, for 10 minutes. Fluff rice with a fork, then cover again to keep warm until ready to serve.

2. Prepare ingredients

While rice cooks, rinse all produce. Trim and discard bottom 1 inch of Chinese broccoli stems, then cut crosswise into ½-inch pieces. Roughly chop cilantro leaves, discarding stems. Trim and discard scallion roots and thinly slice, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens. Mince garlic.

3. Make vinaigrette

Place pine nuts in a medium pan over medium heat. Toast, stirring, until golden and fragrant, 3–5 minutes (see recipe tip). Transfer to a large bowl, reserving pan for the next step. Add soy sauce to bowl with pine nuts, along with red wine vinegar, honey, crushed red pepper (skip or use half for less heat), garlic, scallion dark greens, and ¼ cup olive oil. Whisk until fully combined. Taste and add salt and black pepper (see recipe tip).

4. Sear steaks

Pat steaks dry with paper towel and season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and black pepper as desired. Return pan from pine nuts to medium heat with 1 tablespoon olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add steaks and sear until browned and medium rare, 5–6 minutes per side. Transfer steaks to a plate, leaving behind any fat in pan for the next step, and set aside to rest.

5. Cook Chinese broccoli

Place pan from steaks over medium-high heat. When fat is shimmering, add Chinese broccoli, scallion whites and light greens, and ¼ teaspoon salt. Sauté, stirring, until broccoli is tender and begins to brown, 2–3 minutes. Transfer Chinese broccoli to bowl with vinaigrette.

6. Plate beef and broccoli

Cut rested steaks against the grain into ¼-inch slices (see recipe tip), then add to bowl with Chinese broccoli and toss to coat with vinaigrette. Divide rice among serving plates and top with beef and broccoli, drizzling over any remaining pine nut–soy vinaigrette from bowl. Garnish with cilantro and dig in!
