Argentine Beef Empanadas

with Chimichurri and Monterey Jack

Stuffed pastries are always our jam, especially when the dough becomes golden and flaky and the filling has plenty of melty cheese. Tonight's Argentine empanadas mimic the classic sweet and savory beef filling with adobo seasoning and roasted red peppers. The country's signature condiment, an herb and vinegar chimichurri, provides a bold, bright contrast. Buen provecho!

- 1 tablespoon tomato paste
- 1 tablespoon adobo seasoning
- 2 packages empanada doughs
- 4 ounces shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 1 ounce parsley
- 2 cloves garlic
- 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
- 2 parchment papers

You'll need

- olive oil
- kosher salt
- black pepper
- 2 baking sheets
- 12" large pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

When mincing spicy jalapeño, avoid touching the inside, and wash your knife, cutting board, and hands afterward.

These empanadas keep well and are easily portable. If you have any left over, pack them for tomorrow's lunch and reheat in the microwave for about 30 seconds per side.

USDA recommends cooking ground beef to 160°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Drain roasted red peppers, pat very dry with paper towel (to keep moisture out of filling), and roughly chop. Peel onion and cut into small dice. Halve jalapeño lengthwise; using a knife tip, discard seeds and stem, then mince (see recipe tip). Line 2 baking sheets with parchment papers.

2. Cook beef filling

Pat beef dry with paper towel. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add onion and half of jalapeño; sauté, stirring, until soft, 3–4 minutes. Stir in tomato paste to combine, about 1 minute. Add adobo seasoning, beef, 1 teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired. Cook, breaking up, until browned, 6–8 minutes. Remove pan from heat; stir in roasted red peppers.

3. Fill empanadas

Working 1 at a time, place 16 empanada doughs on prepared baking sheets in a single layer (save remainder for another recipe). Using your hands, gently stretch or press doughs into slightly larger circles, about 5 inches in diameter (so they can hold more filling). Using a slotted spoon, add about ⅓ cup filling to 1 half of each. Sprinkle over Monterey Jack.

4. Form and bake empanadas

Carefully fold empanada doughs over filling and, using the tines of a fork, press and seal edges tightly. Brush empanadas with olive oil, then cut a small slit on top of each so steam can escape. Bake, rotating sheets halfway through, until puffed and light golden, 15–17 minutes total.

5. Make chimichurri

While empanadas bake, finely chop parsley leaves and stems (the stems are quite tender, so we've kept them for extra flavor and aroma). Mince garlic. In a small bowl, stir together red wine vinegar, parsley, garlic, remaining jalapeño (skip or use half for less heat), 3½ tablespoons olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and black pepper as desired to combine.

6. Plate beef empanadas

Transfer Argentine beef empanadas to serving plates (see recipe tip). Drizzle over chimichurri, or serve alongside for dipping. Enjoy!
