Beef and Butternut Skillet

with Monterey Jack and Purple Sweet Potato Chips

We're so excited to introduce purple sweet potatoes in tonight's recipe. These seasonal spuds have a richer flavor and are less sweet than the orange variety. Sliced thin and baked into chips, they're ideal for scooping up the saucy, cheesy beef and butternut squash mixture. Layer everything in individual bowls as shown, or bring the whole skillet to the table and serve the chips alongside.

Plated.

Ingredients

- 1 purple sweet potato
- 8 ounces butternut squash
- 1 scallion, divided
- 12 ounces ground beef
- 1 spice mix
  - ¼ teaspoon ancho chile powder
  - ½ teaspoon ground cumin
  - ½ teaspoon garlic powder
- 2 tablespoons tomato paste
- ½ cup corn
- 2 ounces shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 1 lime, divided
- ¼ ounce cilantro
- 2 packets sour cream

You'll need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper aluminum foil baking sheet
12" large high-sided pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Using a slotted spoon will drain off any excess fat from the beef so it doesn't end up in the finished dish. Pouring the fat down the drain might damage your pipes—instead, pour it into a heatproof container once it's cooled slightly, and dispose in the garbage.

USDA recommends cooking ground beef to 160°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Thinly slice purple sweet potato crosswise on a diagonal (this increases surface area for more browning, but feel free to slice as usual). Cut butternut squash cubes to ¼-inch pieces, if needed. Trim and discard scallion root and thinly slice crosswise on a diagonal, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens. Line a baking sheet with foil.

2. Bake sweet potato chips

On prepared baking sheet, toss purple sweet potatoes with 1 tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer, spacing apart as much as possible, and bake until browned and crisp, 15–20 minutes. Meanwhile, pat beef dry with paper towel.

3. Cook beef

Heat 2 teaspoons olive oil in a large high-sided pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add spice mix, scallion whites and light greens, beef, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Cook, breaking up meat, until browned, about 5 minutes. Using a slotted spoon, transfer beef to a bowl and set aside (see recipe tip). Discard almost all fat from pan, leaving a thin layer behind for the next step.

4. Finish beef and squash

Return pan from beef to medium-high heat with 2 teaspoons olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add squash and cook, stirring occasionally, until beginning to soften and brown, 6–8 minutes. Add tomato paste and corn and cook, stirring, until combined, 1–2 minutes. Stir in beef and cook until combined, 1–2 minutes more. Remove pan from heat. Stir in Monterey Jack until melted. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt.

5. Make cilantro-lime crema

While squash cooks, if you have a zester and want to infuse your crema with even more lime flavor, rinse lime and zest up to ½ into a small bowl, then halve. Finely chop cilantro leaves and stems. To bowl with zest, if using, add sour cream, cilantro, juice of ½ lime (or use less, if desired), ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper, and whisk to combine (a friend can do this part). Cut remaining lime into wedges for serving.

6. Plate potato chips and beef

Divide purple sweet potato chips between serving bowls and top with beef and butternut squash (a friend can also do this). Alternatively, bring the skillet to the table and serve with potato chips for scooping. Drizzle over cilantro-lime crema and garnish with scallion dark greens. Serve with lime wedges for squeezing over. Dig in!
