Greek Lamb Meatballs

with Feta Rice and Lemon-Tomato Sauce

Tonight's repeat favorite meal highlights the ultimate balance of Greek flavors: fresh herbs, salty feta cheese, and super-savory meats. If you're big on lemon, we've suggested two uses: a little zest to add aromatic flavor to the lamb and beef meatballs, and a squeeze of tart juice to brighten the homemade tomato sauce infused with oregano.

- black pepper
- kosher salt
- 6" small pot with lid
- 12" large pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

The skin of the lemon (and other citrus fruits) is home to the highest concentration of aromatic oils, so chefs use zest to add bright, perfumy flavor and a little texture. It's easier and safer to zest the lemon before cutting and juicing. If you don't love citrus flavor, feel free to skip it.

USDA recommends cooking ground beef and lamb to 160°F.

1. Cook rice

In a small pot, combine rice, 1½ cups water, and ¼ teaspoon salt, and bring to a boil over high heat. Reduce heat to medium low, cover pot, and simmer until water is fully absorbed, 10–12 minutes. Remove pot from heat and let stand, still covered, until Step 6.

2. Prepare ingredients

While rice cooks, rinse all produce. If you have a zester on hand and want to infuse your meatballs with even more lemon flavor, zest up to ½ lemon (see recipe tip). Then, halve lemon. Roughly chop dill leaves and finely chop parsley leaves, keeping separate and discarding stems. Set aside whole oregano sprigs for Step 5. Roughly chop olives. Peel onion, halve, and thinly slice. Mince garlic.

3. Form and sear meatballs

In a large bowl, combine breadcrumbs, lemon zest (if using), half of parsley, half of garlic, 1 egg, ¾ teaspoon salt, and black pepper. Pat beef and lamb dry and add to bowl. Using your hands, mix well, then form into 15 equal balls, 2 inches thick (this is a great task for a kitchen helper). Heat 1½ tablespoons olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add meatballs. Sear, flipping, until browned on all sides, 10 minutes total.

4. Sauté aromatics

Once cooked, transfer meatballs to a plate and set aside. Return pan from meatballs to medium-high heat and add onion. Cook, scraping up browned bits from bottom of pan, until onion has softened, about 3 minutes. Add crushed red pepper (skip or use half for less heat) and remaining garlic, and sauté, stirring, until fragrant, 1 minute more.

5. Make tomato-lemon sauce

Add wine to pan with aromatics, still over medium-high heat, and cook until liquid is reduced by half, about 1 minute. Add diced tomatoes and their juices and whole oregano sprigs, and simmer until sauce has thickened, about 6 minutes more. Remove and discard oregano. Add meatballs, stir to coat with sauce, and turn to warm through, 1–2 minutes. Remove pan from heat. Stir in juice of ½ lemon, ½ teaspoon salt, and black pepper.

6. Plate Greek lamb meatballs

Fluff cooked rice with a fork, then add dill, half of feta, juice of remaining lemon (or use less, as desired), and 1 tablespoon olive oil to pot and stir to combine. Serve Greek lamb meatballs with feta rice, and spoon over tomato-lemon sauce. Garnish with olives, remaining parsley, and remaining feta, and dig in!
