Greek Baked Shrimp and Feta

with Orzo

Get stoked for our saucy homage to Greek saganaki, named after the small, two-handled frying pan that's used to make the dish (usually, it's a slab of rich cheese, seared in a showy display of flames that are extinguished with lemon). We've added shrimp and seasonal fennel to the bright tomato sauce, which is baked in an ovenproof pan with feta and herbed breadcrumbs for the same cheesy, crispy results.

Plated.

Ingredients

- 1 bulb fennel
- 1 herb mix
  - ⅛ ounce oregano
  - ⅛ ounce parsley
- 1 lemon, divided
- 1 yellow onion
- 3 cloves garlic
- ¾ cup orzo
- ¼ cup panko breadcrumbs
- ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 10 ounces shrimp
- 2 ounces crumbled feta cheese
- 2 tablespoons white wine
- 1 14-ounce can chopped tomatoes

You'll Need

olive oil kosher salt
black pepper
8" medium pot
10" medium ovenproof pan

Recipe Tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

No medium ovenproof pan? No problem! Sear shrimp in a regular medium pan, then use the same pan to simmer tomato sauce. Transfer everything to a medium baking dish in Step 5.

Using a slotted spoon will drain off any excess moisture from the shrimp so it stays out of your saganaki.

USDA recommends cooking shellfish to 145°F.

1. Prepare Ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse all produce. Halve fennel bulb; cut core out in a wedge shape and discard. Cut fennel into ¼-inch slices. Roughly chop oregano and parsley leaves, discarding stems. Halve lemon. Peel onion, halve, and cut into ¼-inch slices. Mince garlic.

2. Cook Orzo and Season Breadcrumbs

Season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in orzo and cook until al dente, about 12 minutes. Meanwhile, in a small bowl, stir together breadcrumbs, crushed red pepper (skip or use half for less heat), oregano, parsley, and 1 tablespoon olive oil to combine. Set aside. Once cooked, drain orzo and return to pot, off heat, then drizzle over olive oil and toss to coat—this prevents sticking.

3. Sear Shrimp

Pat shrimp dry with paper towel and season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and black pepper as desired. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a medium ovenproof pan over medium-high heat (see Recipe Tip). When oil is shimmering, add shrimp and cook, stirring occasionally, until opaque and just pink, 4-6 minutes total. Using a slotted spoon, transfer shrimp to a plate, reserving pan for the next step (see Recipe Tip).

4. Simmer Sauce

Wipe pan from shrimp clean, then return to medium-high heat with 1 tablespoon olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add fennel, onion, and garlic and sauté, stirring, until fragrant, about 5 minutes. Add wine and chopped tomatoes. Season with ½ teaspoon salt and black pepper. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce to medium and simmer until sauce is slightly thickened, about 5 minutes. Remove pan from heat.

5. Bake Shrimp and Feta

Return shrimp to pan, nestling partway into tomato sauce. Scatter over feta and herbed breadcrumbs. Transfer pan to oven and bake until cheese begins to melt and breadcrumbs are lightly browned, 4-5 minutes. Then, remove from oven and add 1 squeeze lemon juice.

6. Plate Greek Baked Shrimp

Divide orzo between serving plates, and top with baked shrimp and feta. Cut remaining lemon into wedges for squeezing over. Opa!
