Ginger-Scallion Chicken

with Rice Noodles and Soy Brown Butter

Brown butter is a simple yet luscious sauce made by gently cooking butter until the milk solids toast and darken. For tonight's hearty chicken and noodle bowls, we stir soy into the brown butter for savory, umami-packed flavor. Plenty of aromatics—ginger, garlic, and scallions—add fragrant complexity, edamame and shredded cabbage provide color, and sesame seeds give each portion a nutty finishing touch.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Cooking with a helper tonight? Have them peel the ginger in Step 1 (they can use the edge of a metal spoon to scrape along the outside of the ginger and quickly peel its delicate skin). Then, they can garnish the finished plates in Step 6.

Brown butter is easy to make, but does require paying attention so it doesn't burn. Swirl the pan around or stir often.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing. USDA recommends cooking ground chicken to 165°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Bring a large pot of water to a boil over high heat (see recipe tip). Rinse scallions and trim and discard roots. Thinly slice scallion whites and light greens; cut scallion dark greens crosswise into 1-inch pieces, keeping separate. Trim and discard skin of ginger and mince. Mince garlic.

2. Cook chicken

Heat 1 tablespoon canola oil in a large high-sided pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add ginger, garlic, and scallion whites and light greens. Sauté, stirring, until fragrant, 1 minute. Add chicken and season with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Cook, breaking up, until meat is browned, about 5 minutes. Transfer chicken and aromatics to a plate; set aside for Step 5. Wipe pan clean and reserve, off heat, for Step 4.

3. Cook rice noodles

While chicken cooks, add rice noodles to pot of boiling water, then immediately remove from heat. Gently stir to separate noodles and keep from sticking. Set aside to soak until tender, about 9 minutes. Then, drain noodles and immediately rinse under cold water for 30 seconds to stop cooking—this prevents the noodles from releasing too much starch and turning gummy. Set aside.

4. Make soy brown butter

While noodles cook, place pan from chicken over medium heat with butter. Swirl pan occasionally until butter turns golden and fragrant, 7–8 minutes (see recipe tip). Remove pan from heat and let cool slightly, 1–2 minutes, then stir in soy sauce to combine.

5. Finish noodles

To pan with soy brown butter, add edamame, cabbage, chicken and aromatics, cooked rice noodles, and scallion dark greens; toss to coat. Return pan to medium heat and cook, stirring occasionally, until warmed through, 1–2 minutes more. Taste and season with salt and pepper as desired.

6. Plate ginger-scallion chicken

Divide chicken and noodles among shallow serving bowls. Garnish with sesame seeds and enjoy!
