Recipe tips

Though orzo is shaped like a grain, it's actually a pasta, and should be cooked like other noodles. The amount of water isn't indicated because you'll drain the orzo when it's finished cooking.

The roasted lemon rounds make a beautiful garnish for the finished plates, but feel free to discard them if you prefer.

USDA recommends cooking fish to 145°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 425°F. Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse all produce. Trim and discard ends of haricots verts (line up the ends to trim them all at once). Roughly chop oregano leaves, discarding stems. Thinly slice half of lemon into rounds for Step 4 (reserve remainder for Step 5). Peel onion and cut into 8 equal wedges.

2. Roast vegetables

Line 2 baking sheets with foil. On 1 prepared sheet, toss whole grape tomatoes, haricots verts, and onion with 1 tablespoon olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer; roast until tender and beginning to brown, 10–12 minutes.

3. Cook orzo

While vegetables roast, season boiling water generously with salt (see recipe tip). Stir in orzo and cook until al dente, about 12 minutes. Drain and return to pot, off heat.

4. Roast cod

While orzo cooks, pat cod dry with paper towel and add to other prepared sheet. Rub all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired, then top evenly with lemon rounds. Roast cod (with vegetables) until opaque and cooked through, 7–10 minutes.

5. Finish orzo and vegetables

While cod roasts, to pot with cooked and drained orzo, still off heat, stir in half of feta, half of oregano, juice of remaining lemon, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired; stir to combine. Once vegetables are roasted, add remaining feta to sheet and toss to coat.

6. Plate lemon-roasted cod

Divide feta orzo between serving plates and top with roasted vegetables. Remove and discard lemon rounds from roasted cod, if desired (see recipe tip), then add to plates. Garnish with remaining oregano and enjoy!
