Honey-Balsamic Chicken Thighs

with Roasted Potato Salad

Reducing balsamic vinegar, or cooking it down until thickened, further concentrates its tangy-sweet flavor. A touch of honey intensifies the complexity here, creating a sticky glaze for drizzling over juicy roasted chicken thighs. Red-skinned potatoes, tossed with spinach in a creamy Dijon dressing, are perfect for swiping up the dark, rich, syrupy reduction.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

To tell if your chicken thighs are cooked through, rely on temperature, not color. Unlike the white meat in chicken breasts, the dark meat in chicken thighs may be slightly pink in color, even when done. USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165°F.

The chicken might have a slight odor as a natural reaction to its vacuum packing.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Cut potatoes into ½-inch pieces. Trim and discard scallion roots and thinly slice, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens.

2. Roast chicken

Line a baking sheet with foil. Pat chicken very dry with paper towel and place on prepared sheet. Season all over with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired, then arrange skin-side up. Roast until skin is crisp and chicken is cooked through, 25–35 minutes (see recipe tip).

3. Roast potatoes

While chicken roasts, on a separate baking sheet, toss potatoes with 1 tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer and roast (with chicken) until beginning to brown and soften, 18–20 minutes (see recipe tip). Take a 10 minute break—this'd be a great time to set the table.

4. Make honey-balsamic glaze

After 10 minutes of potatoes roasting, in a small pot, stir together balsamic vinegar and honey. Bring to a boil over high heat, then reduce heat to medium and simmer, stirring occasionally, until glaze is thickened and sticky, 5–7 minutes. Remove pot from heat.

5. Dress potato salad

In a large bowl, whisk together mayonnaise, apple cider vinegar, and mustard to combine. Pat spinach dry with paper towel and add to bowl with dressing, along with scallion whites and light greens. Once roasted, add potatoes and toss to coat.

6. Plate chicken thighs

Divide roasted potato salad between serving plates. Top with chicken thighs and drizzle over honey-balsamic glaze (we recommend rinsing the pot now, to make cleanup easier). Garnish with scallion dark greens and dig in!
