

Sour Cream Doughnuts

with Lemon–Poppy Seed Glaze

We're bringing back our beloved homemade doughnuts, this time with a zingy lemon and poppy seed glaze. The dough is made tender with sour cream, then dropped by the spoonful into hot oil and fried until golden. Be sure to check out our tips for safely heating the oil, frying, and discarding afterward. The hardest part of this recipe? Waiting for the doughnuts to cool just enough to let the glaze set before devouring.

MEALS WORTH MAKING

Ingredients

- 1 lemon
- 2 cups powdered sugar
- 1 container milk
- 1½ tablespoons poppy seeds
- 4 packets unsalted butter
- 2 ounces sour cream
- 2 cups flour
- 2 tablespoons granulated sugar
- 4 teaspoons baking powder

You'll need

- canola oil
- 1 egg
- kosher salt
- plastic wrap
- 8" medium pot

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

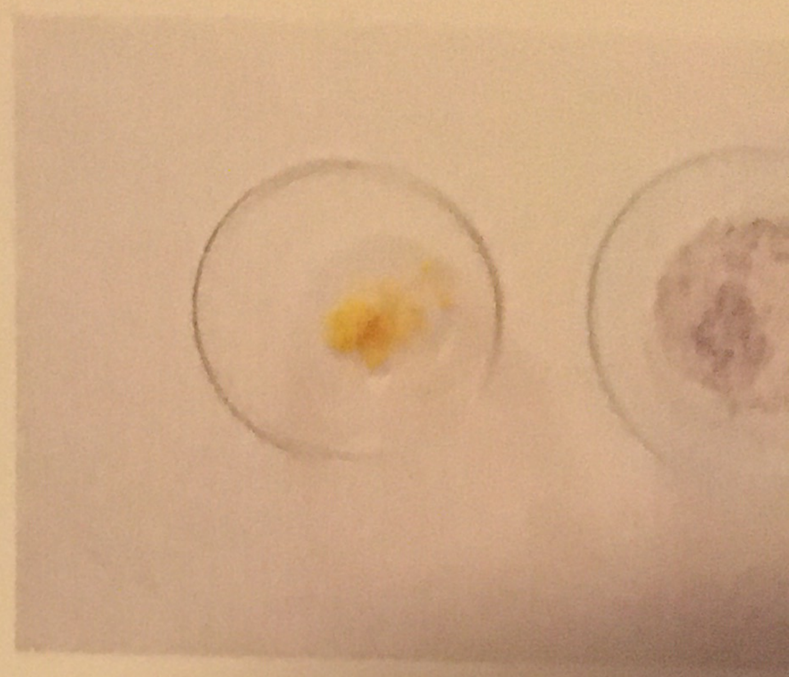

If you have a candy or deep-frying thermometer, heat the oil to a temperature of about 370°F.

Stand back to fry the doughnuts in case hot oil splatters.

The more doughnuts per batch, the lower the temperature of the oil, and the longer they'll take to cook. Be sure to give them plenty of room. Note that later batches may cook faster since the oil is already hot.

Pouring oil down the drain might damage your pipes. Instead, pour it into a heatproof container or bottle once it's cooled slightly, and dispose in the garbage.

1. Prepare ingredients

If you have a zester and want to infuse your doughnuts with even more lemon flavor, rinse and zest up to whole lemon into a medium bowl, then halve. In a large bowl, whisk together powdered sugar, juice of 1 lemon, 3 tablespoons milk (reserve remainder for dough), half of poppy seeds, and ⅛ teaspoon salt until smooth and pourable. Cover lemon–poppy seed glaze with plastic wrap and set aside for Step 5.

2. Heat oil and melt butter

Line a plate with paper towels for Step 5. In a medium pot, pour enough canola oil to reach 1 inch up sides of pot, then place over medium-high heat (see recipe tip). Place butter in a separate large heatproof bowl and microwave in 30-second intervals until completely melted. Alternatively, in a small pot, melt butter over medium heat, then pour into a large heatproof bowl.

3. Make dough

To bowl with melted butter, add sour cream, remaining milk, and 1 egg and whisk to combine. To bowl with lemon zest (if using), add flour, granulated sugar, baking powder, remaining poppy seeds, and ½ teaspoon salt and whisk to combine. Pour sour cream mixture into bowl with dry ingredients and gently stir until a soft dough forms.

4. Fry doughnuts

Carefully drop a dime-size amount of dough into pot with oil (see recipe tip). If it sizzles immediately, keep going; if not, try again once the oil is hotter. Working carefully, scoop tablespoon-size dollops of dough into oil, working in batches as needed. Fry doughnuts, turning frequently, until golden brown, 2–3 minutes per doughnut (see recipe tip).

5. Glaze doughnuts

Using a slotted spoon, transfer doughnuts to paper towel–lined plate to cool slightly, 1–2 minutes (see recipe tip). Then, add doughnuts to bowl with lemon–poppy seed glaze. Using a spoon, gently toss to thoroughly coat. Transfer to a separate plate, allowing excess glaze to drip off. Set doughnuts aside until glaze is set, about 5 minutes.

6. Plate sour cream doughnuts

Once glaze is set, enjoy lemon–poppy seed doughnuts warm (while they last!).
