Sherry-Marinated Steak

with Potatoes and Creamy Tomato Sauce

Tonight's steaks are infused with bold Spanish flavors thanks to a sherry vinegar and smoked paprika marinade. After the meat sears, the marinade is boiled until reduced, then blended with sautéed tomatoes and sour cream. Serve the velvety sauce with crispy roasted potatoes for a simplified spin on Spain's favorite spud preparation: papas bravas.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

If you don't have a blender, transfer 2 tablespoons tomato mixture to a small bowl and mash until almost smooth, then stir in sour cream. The sauce won't be as smooth, but it will still be delicious.

Cutting meat against the grain ensures tenderness. Find the direction of the grain (muscle fibers) and slice across it, rather than parallel.

USDA recommends cooking beef to 145°F.

1. Marinate steaks

Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. In a large bowl or resealable plastic bag, combine sherry vinegar, smoked paprika, half of whole thyme sprigs, 1 tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Pat steaks dry with paper towel, add to marinade, and turn to coat. Set aside to marinate at room temperature for about 10 minutes.

2. Prepare ingredients

While steaks marinate, halve potatoes. Halve grape tomatoes. Strip leaves from remaining thyme sprigs, discarding stems. Peel onion, halve, and thinly slice. Using the flat side of a knife, gently crush garlic clove.

3. Roast potatoes

On a baking sheet, toss potatoes with 1 tablespoon olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange cut-side down in a single layer (to ensure they turn crisp) and roast until browned and tender, 15–17 minutes.

4. Sear steaks

While potatoes roast, remove steaks from marinade, allowing excess to drip off. Remove and discard whole thyme sprigs; reserve marinade for next step. Heat ½ tablespoon olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add steaks and sear until browned and medium rare, 4–6 minutes per side. Transfer steaks to cutting board and set aside to rest, leaving oil behind in pan for the next step.

5. Make creamy tomato sauce

Return pan from steaks to medium-high heat. Add grape tomatoes, onion, and crushed garlic; cook, stirring, until softened, 3–4 minutes. Add reserved marinade to pan; bring to a boil and cook, stirring, until reduced by half, 1–2 minutes. Remove pan from heat. In a blender or food processor, combine sour cream and 2 tablespoons tomato mixture; blend until smooth (see recipe tip). Taste and add salt and pepper as desired.

6. Plate sherry-marinated steak

Cut rested steaks against the grain into ¼-inch slices (see recipe tip). Add roasted potatoes to pan with remaining tomato mixture, still off heat, and toss to coat, then divide between serving plates. Spread creamy tomato sauce on plates with potatoes and top with sliced steak. Garnish with remaining thyme leaves and dig in!
