Steak au Poivre

with Crispy Fingerling Potatoes

This French bistro classic is all about deeply aromatic cracked black peppercorns, traditionally used to crust steaks and flavor a Dijon cream sauce. In this modified version, we opt for a simple sear on the steaks so the pepper in the sauce can shine. We round out the plate with crispy roasted fingerling potatoes and sautéed kale.

MEALS WORTH MAKING

Ingredients

- 1¼ pounds fingerling potatoes
- 12 ounces dinosaur kale
- 2 shallots
- 3 cloves garlic
- 4 steaks
- 1 teaspoon cracked black peppercorns
- ½ cup white wine
- 4 ounces heavy cream
- 1 packet Dijon mustard

You'll need

- olive oil
- kosher salt
- ground black pepper
- baking sheet
- 12" large pan
- 10" medium pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Use ground black pepper from your pantry to season the potatoes in Step 2, the steaks in Step 3, and the kale in Step 4 (feel free to use sparingly, or not at all). We've sent you cracked black peppercorns, broken into slightly larger pieces, for the sauce.

Cutting meat against the grain ensures tenderness. Find the direction of the grain (muscle fibers) and slice across it, rather than parallel.

USDA recommends cooking beef to 145°F.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 425°F. Rinse all produce. Halve potatoes lengthwise. Pat kale dry with paper towel, stack leaves, and thinly slice, discarding long stems. Peel shallots and thinly slice into rings. Mince garlic.

2. Roast potatoes

On a baking sheet, toss potatoes with 2 tablespoons olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and ground black pepper as desired (see recipe tip). Arrange cut-side down in a single layer and roast until slightly tender, about 14 minutes (move on to Step 3—but don't forget to come back). Then, add half of shallots to sheet and continue roasting until potatoes are golden and crispy and shallots are tender, 4–6 minutes more.

3. Sear steaks

While potatoes roast, pat steaks dry with paper towel and season all over with 1 teaspoon salt and ground black pepper as desired. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add steaks and sear, working in batches and adding oil as needed, until browned and medium rare, 4–6 minutes per side. Transfer steaks to a plate and set aside to rest, reserving pan, off heat, for Step 5.

4. Sauté kale

While steaks sear, heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a separate large pan over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add garlic and sauté until fragrant, about 1 minute. Add kale and sauté, working in batches as needed, until dark green and just wilted, 3–4 minutes more. Remove pan from heat and season with ¼ teaspoon salt and ground black pepper as desired.

5. Make sauce au poivre

While kale cooks, place pan from steaks over medium heat and add 1 teaspoon olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add cracked black peppercorns and remaining shallots. Cook, stirring, until shallot begins to soften, 2–3 minutes. Add wine and cook, scraping up brown bits from bottom of pan, until liquid is slightly reduced, 2–3 minutes. Stir in heavy cream and mustard to warm through, 1 minute more.

6. Plate steak au poivre

Remove pan with sauce from heat; taste and add salt as desired. Cut rested steaks against the grain into ¼-inch slices (see recipe tip). Divide crispy fingerling potatoes and kale among serving plates. Serve with sliced steak and top with sauce au poivre. Dig in!
