Prosciutto and Pea Farfalle

with Creamy Garlic-Parmesan Sauce

Prosciutto and peas (piselli al prosciutto) is a classic Roman pairing typically enjoyed as a side dish. In this repeat favorite, the dynamic duo star in a rich, comforting pasta dish that blends farfalle with garlic, white wine, Parmesan, butter, cream, and rosemary. The prosciutto's baked in the oven until it's brown and crisp, adding a salty, crunchy counterpoint to the al dente pasta, bright peas, and silky sauce.

black pepper
8" medium pot
baking sheet
10" medium high-sided pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

The prosciutto might not look perfectly crisp when it comes out of the oven, but will crisp up fully when it cools.

While it cooks, pasta releases starches into the boiling water. Adding some reserved pasta water to the sauce will help it cling to the noodles in Step 5. It's easiest to reserve this water in a liquid measuring cup, if you have one.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 350°F. Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse parsley and roughly chop leaves, discarding stems. Peel shallot and mince. Peel onion and cut into small dice. Mince garlic.

2. Bake prosciutto

Line a baking sheet with parchment paper, then add prosciutto slices in a single layer. Bake until beginning to crisp, 15–18 minutes (see recipe tip). Then, remove from oven and set aside to cool until fully crisp.

3. Cook farfalle and peas

While prosciutto bakes, season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in farfalle and cook 5 minutes, then stir in peas and cook until pasta is al dente, 3 minutes more. Reserve ½ cup pasta cooking water (see recipe tip), then drain farfalle and peas and return to pot, off heat. Add 1 tablespoon olive oil to pot and stir to coat (this will prevent the pasta from sticking).

4. Make sauce

While farfalle cooks, heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a medium high-sided pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add shallot, onion, and garlic and sauté, stirring, until fragrant, 2–3 minutes. Add white wine and stir to combine, 1 minute. Stir in butter, ¼ cup heavy cream (save remainder for a cup of coffee), and 1 whole rosemary sprig. Save any remaining rosemary for another recipe, like a batch of roasted potatoes.

5. Toss farfalle

Add farfalle and peas to pan with sauce, still over medium-high heat, and stir to combine. Adding 1 tablespoon at a time, gradually stir in reserved pasta cooking water and simmer until slightly thickened, 3–4 minutes. Taste and add salt and pepper as desired. Remove pan from heat. Remove and discard whole rosemary sprig, then stir in half of Parmesan to combine.

6. Plate farfalle

Divide pea farfalle with creamy garlic-Parmesan sauce between serving bowls and crumble over crispy prosciutto. Sprinkle over parsley and remaining Parmesan. Mangia!
