Prosciutto and Zucchini Cavatappi

with Thyme Breadcrumbs and Mascarpone

Tonight's dinner expertly balances the comfort of creamy Italian pastas with a lighter, colorful touch thanks to the season's bounty. Roasted zucchini and corkscrew-shaped cavatappi noodles are tossed in a Parmesan-mascarpone sauce thickened with some of the pasta's starchy, flavor-packed cooking water. Crispy prosciutto, thyme-toasted breadcrumbs, and pea shoots complete the addictive contrast.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking.

Here's a cheffy trick for picking thyme leaves all at once: Pinch the stem near the top with one hand, then slide the fingers of your other hand down the length of the stem, from top to bottom. The leaves will come off easily.

The prosciutto might not look perfectly crisp when it comes out of the oven, but will crisp up fully when it cools.

Starchy pasta cooking water will give your sauce a perfect consistency and help it cling to the noodles. Keep adding it until the sauce is silky—you might need more than you think.

1. Prepare ingredients

Preheat oven to 350°F. Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse all produce. Quarter zucchini lengthwise and thinly slice crosswise, discarding ends. Strip thyme leaves, discarding stems, then roughly chop (see recipe tip). Peel shallot, halve, and thinly slice. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper for the next step.

2. Crisp prosciutto and roast zucchini

On 1 half of prepared baking sheet, arrange prosciutto slices in a single layer. On other half, toss zucchini and shallot with 2 teaspoons olive oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Arrange in a single layer. Roast until zucchini is tender and prosciutto begins to crisp, 13–15 minutes. Then, remove from oven and set aside to cool until prosciutto is fully crisp (see recipe tip).

3. Boil cavatappi

While prosciutto and zucchini roast, season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in cavatappi and cook until al dente, about 7 minutes. Reserve ½ cup pasta cooking water, then drain cavatappi and return to pot, off heat.

4. Toast thyme breadcrumbs

While pasta cooks, heat ½ tablespoon olive oil in a medium nonstick pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add breadcrumbs, thyme, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Cook, stirring frequently to prevent burning, until golden, 3–5 minutes. Remove pan from heat and set aside.

5. Finish cavatappi

Add Parmesan and half of mascarpone to pot with cooked pasta, still off heat (save remaining mascarpone for a snack —we love it as a dip for fresh berries). Adding 1 tablespoon at a time, stir in reserved pasta cooking water until sauce is silky and clings to noodles (see recipe tip). Add roasted zucchini and gently toss to combine. Taste and add salt and pepper as desired.

6. Plate cavatappi

In a medium bowl, combine 1 teaspoon olive oil, ⅛ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Add pea shoots to bowl and toss to coat. Divide zucchini cavatappi between serving bowls. Crumble crispy prosciutto over top, scatter over thyme breadcrumbs, and garnish with pea shoots. Dig in!
