

MADE FOR SHARING

Grapefruit-Lemon Cream Tarts

with Toasted Pistachios and Coconut

Tonight, we're sharing a new technique for supreming, or separating whole segments of fresh grapefruit. The little pearls of pulp burst on the tongue, making this dessert even more refreshing. The segments top no-bake tarts made with condensed milk and grapefruit and lemon juices. Add a dollop of whipped cream, toasted coconut, and pistachios, and get ready to wow everyone at the table.

35–45 minutes 4 servings 460 calories per serving

Plated.
MEALS WORTH MAKING

Ingredients

- 2 cans condensed milk
- 1 grapefruit, divided
- 1 lemon
- 2 tablespoons pistachios
- ½ ounce coconut chips
- 4 graham cracker crusts
- 1 container heavy cream
- 1 tablespoon powdered sugar

You'll need

baking sheet
8" medium nonstick pan

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Chilled tools make whipping cream a lot easier. If you have a stand or hand mixer, feel free to chill just the bowl.

If your condensed milk is still cold from the refrigerator, you can also set the unopened cans in a large bowl, fill with warm water, and set aside until room temperature and pourable, 5–10 minutes.

Removing the segments from grapefruit and other citrus, also called supreming, creates a cheffy garnish for the tarts. Working carefully, cut on either side of each segment, close to the membrane (a paring knife is great for this). Don't worry if some of the segments break apart; they'll still be delicious.

Questions? Email help@plated.com or call 855-525-2399. Visit plated.me/allergens for more information on dietary restrictions.

1904-6174-4P

1. Prepare ingredients

Place a large bowl and whisk in the refrigerator for whipping cream in Step 4 (see recipe tip). Set condensed milk aside to come to room temperature (see recipe tip). Halve grapefruit and lemon. Finely chop pistachios. Finely chop coconut chips.

2. Assemble tarts

In a medium bowl, squeeze lemon and ½ grapefruit to yield 2 tablespoons juice each (save remaining grapefruit half for Step 5). Add condensed milk to bowl with juices and whisk to combine. Place graham cracker crusts on a baking sheet and add grapefruit-lemon filling, dividing evenly. Refrigerate until set, at least 20 minutes.

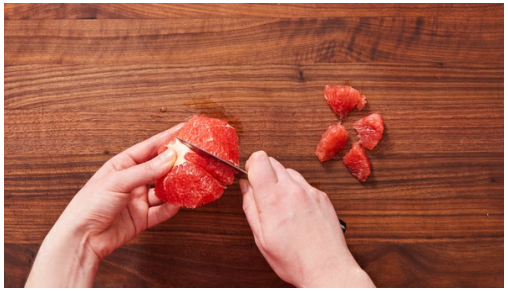

3. Toast pistachios and coconut

While tarts chill, place a medium nonstick pan over medium heat with pistachios and coconut. Toast, stirring frequently to prevent burning, until golden and fragrant, 3–4 minutes. Remove pan from heat. Transfer pistachios and coconut to a small bowl and set aside until ready to serve.

4. Whip cream

Remove bowl and whisk from refrigerator. Add heavy cream and powdered sugar and whip until thickened and soft peaks form. Chill in refrigerator until ready to serve.

5. Supreme grapefruit

Place remaining ½ grapefruit cut-side down on cutting board. Then, cutting downward, remove peel and white pith, following the curve of the fruit and sticking close to the pith so you don't remove too much flesh. Carefully cut between membranes of peeled grapefruit to release segments, and set aside for garnish (see recipe tip). Alternatively, cut the peeled grapefruit crosswise into slices.

6. Plate grapefruit-lemon cream tarts

Sprinkle toasted pistachios and coconut over half of each grapefruit-lemon cream tart. Top other half with a dollop of whipped cream. Garnish with grapefruit supremes and enjoy!

Join the Plated community and post your #platedpics!

MADE FOR SHARING