Spanakopita Grilled Cheese Sandwiches

with Greek Salad

Greek spanakopita (meaning "spinach pie") is made by layering phyllo dough with spinach, olive oil, and salty feta cheese. In this recipe, those same flavors are transformed into grilled cheese sandwiches with hearty sourdough, plus shredded mozzarella for extra gooey goodness. A mix of fresh cucumber and tomato, tossed with dill and lemon, makes the perfect bright counterpart.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Removing excess liquid from the cooked spinach will help your sandwiches stay crisp when they cook in Step 3.

Mayo doesn't burn the way oil or butter does. Spreading it on the outside of your bread will help your sandwiches turn perfectly golden.

Placing a heavy object like a pan or plate on top of the sandwiches while they cook helps weigh them down, intensifying the heat underneath and resulting in evenly crisp bread.

1. Sauté spinach

Rinse all produce. Pat spinach dry with paper towel and roughly chop. Roughly chop dill leaves, discarding stems. Mince garlic. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large nonstick pan over medium heat. When oil is shimmering, add spinach and garlic and sauté, stirring, until spinach is just wilted, 2–3 minutes. Remove pan from heat. Once cool, wrap spinach in paper towel; squeeze to remove excess liquid (see recipe tip).

2. Assemble sandwiches

Transfer spinach to a medium bowl with feta, half of dill, ⅛ teaspoon salt, and pepper; stir to combine. Place bread slices on a clean, dry surface. Spread mayonnaise over 1 side of each bread slice, then flip (see recipe tip). Sprinkle half of mozzarella over plain sides of 2 bread slices, then top with spinach filling, reserving bowl. Finish with remaining mozzarella and remaining bread slices, mayonnaise-side up.

3. Cook sandwiches

Wipe pan from spinach clean and return to medium heat. Carefully hover your hand a few inches away from the pan—when you can easily feel heat, add sandwiches. Place a medium heavy pan or large plate on top and cook until bread is golden brown and cheese is melted, 3–4 minutes per side (see recipe tip). Transfer to cutting board.

4. Prepare salad ingredients

While sandwiches cook, halve lemon. Cut cucumber crosswise into ¼-inch rounds. Halve grape tomatoes.

5. Finish Greek salad

Wipe bowl from filling clean and add dried oregano, juice of 1 lemon, remaining dill, 1½ tablespoons olive oil, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Whisk to fully combine. Add cucumber and grape tomatoes and toss to coat.

6. Plate spanakopita grilled cheese

Halve spanakopita grilled cheese sandwiches crosswise and divide between serving plates. Serve with Greek salad. Dig in!
