Shrimp Parmesan

with Penne and Broccolini

Inspired by the Italian-American classic known as Parmigiana, we've spun up a shrimp variation, complete with aromatic tomato sauce, fresh basil, and the must-have melty cheese duo: mozzarella and Parmesan. Mini penne help trap pockets of sauce in each bite. For pops of green, broccolini gets thrown in with the boiling pasta, ensuring perfectly crisp-tender contrast after one gloriously cheesy bake.

1. Sear shrimp

Preheat oven to 450°F. Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Reshape aluminum tin, if bent. Pat shrimp dry with paper towel; season with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper. Heat 2 teaspoons olive oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add shrimp and cook, stirring occasionally, until opaque and just pink, 4–6 minutes total. Using a slotted spoon, transfer shrimp to tin, reserving pan for Step 3.

2. Prepare ingredients

While shrimp cook, rinse all produce. Trim and discard woody bottoms of broccolini, then cut crosswise into 1-inch pieces. Roughly chop or tear basil leaves, discarding stems. Peel onion, halve, and thinly slice. Mince garlic.

3. Simmer tomato sauce

Wipe pan from shrimp clean and return to medium-high heat with 2 teaspoons olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add onion; cook, stirring, until soft, 3–4 minutes. Add garlic; cook until fragrant, 1 minute more. Add tomato purée. Increase heat to high and bring to a boil, then reduce to medium and simmer until sauce has thickened, 7–10 minutes. Remove pan from heat. Season with ½ teaspoon salt and pepper.

4. Boil penne and broccolini

While sauce simmers, season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in penne and cook until almost al dente, about 5 minutes. Then, add broccolini to pot and cook until penne is al dente and broccolini is tender, 2–3 minutes more. Drain and return to pot, off heat.

5. Bake shrimp Parmesan

To pot with penne and broccolini, still off heat, add cooked shrimp, tomato sauce, half of Parmesan, and half of basil; stir to combine. Place tin on a baking sheet. Pour in penne and spread in an even layer. Sprinkle over mozzarella and remaining Parmesan. Bake until cheese is golden and bubbling, 5–7 minutes (see recipe tip).

6. Plate shrimp Parmesan

Divide shrimp Parmesan between serving plates and garnish with remaining basil. Dig in!
