It might surprise you to discover that one of your favorite Thai noodle dishes is incredibly uncomplicated, and so easy to recreate at home. Here, Chef Michelle's adding the classic mix-ins, like seared shrimp, sautéed vegetables, and crunchy peanuts. And because it's really all about the sauce, look forward to a salty-sweet mix of soy, brown sugar, and umami-packed fish sauce to boost the flavor of the shrimp.

Cooking Steps

Prepare ingredients
Bring a medium pot of water to a boil over high heat. Rinse all produce. Halve bok choy lengthwise and rinse thoroughly; cut crosswise into 1-inch pieces. Halve bell pepper lengthwise, discarding seeds and stem; cut lengthwise into ¼-inch strips, then halve. Trim and discard scallion roots and thinly slice, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens. Trim and discard skin of ginger, then halve. Mince garlic.

Sauté vegetables
Heat 2 teaspoons canola oil in a medium high-sided pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add bok choy, bell pepper, ginger, and scallion whites and light greens. Sauté, stirring, until softened, 3-4 minutes. Add garlic and cook until fragrant, 1 minute more. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and black pepper, then transfer to a plate, reserving pan for the next step. Remove and discard ginger.

Cook shrimp
Pat shrimp dry with paper towel and season with ¼ teaspoon salt and black pepper as desired. Heat 2 teaspoons canola oil in pan from vegetables over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add shrimp and sear, without stirring, 2-3 minutes (to keep them from sticking to the pan). Then, stir shrimp and continue cooking until opaque and cooked through, 2-3 minutes more. Remove pan from heat.

Cook noodles
While shrimp cook, add pad thai noodles to pot with boiling water and immediately remove from heat. Using a spoon or tongs, gently stir to separate noodles and keep them from sticking. Set aside to soak until tender, about 8 minutes (move on to Step 5—but don't forget to come back!). Then, drainnoodles and immediately rinse under cold water for 30 seconds to cool—this prevents them from overcooking. Set aside.

Make pad thai sauce
While noodles soak, roughly chop peanuts, or leave in bag and gently crush with the bottom of a heavy pan. Halve limes. In a small bowl, whisk together soy sauce, fish sauce, and brown sugar to combine. Whisk in juice of 2 limes (or start with a little, taste, and add more as desired).

Finish and plate pad thai
Place pan with shrimp over high heat.
Add noodles, sautéed vegetables, and sauce. Cook, stirring, until sauce is reduced by half, 2-3 minutes.
Divide shrimp pad thai between serving bowls, garnish with peanuts and scallion dark greens, and dig in!
