Total Time: 30-40 minutes Calories per Serving: 370

Serves: 2 people

Sichuan peppercorn—also known as Chinese coriander—has faint lemony notes and creates a tingly numbness on the tongue. Its unique flavor adds a special kick to Sichuan dishes.

USDA recommends cooking chicken to 165° F.

1. Sear Chicken

Rinse chicken and pat dry with paper towel. Heat 1 tablespoon sesame oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. Season chicken all over with ½ teaspoon kosher salt and pepper. When oil is shimmering, add chicken and sear until browned on outside and no longer pink, 5-6 minutes per side. Transfer to a plate.

2. Prepare Ingredients

While chicken sears, rinse cucumbers, halve lengthwise, then cut crosswise into ½-inch slices. Rinse scallions, then trim and discard roots and thinly slice, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens. Trim and discard skin of ginger and mince. Using the bottom of a small pot, crush Sichuan peppercorns until coarsely ground.

3. Make Peppercorn Sauce

In a large bowl, whisk together black vinegar, as much Sichuan peppercorn as desired, as much Sambal Oelek as desired, 1 tablespoon sesame oil, scallion whites and light greens, ½ of soy sauce, and ½ of ginger. Using 2 forks or tongs, shred chicken into bite-size pieces.

4. Season and Warm Chicken

Wipe pan from chicken clean and add peppercorn sauce over medium heat. Cook until ginger is softened, 2-3 minutes. Add shredded chicken and cook, stirring, until warmed through, 2-3 minutes.

5. Toss Salad

While chicken warms, add remaining sesame oil, remaining ginger, and remaining soy sauce to bowl from peppercorn sauce and whisk to combine. Add snow peas, arugula, cucumbers, and scallion dark greens and toss to coat. Taste and add salt and pepper as needed.

6. Plate Chicken

Divide salad evenly between 2 plates. Top with chicken, then garnish with sesame seeds and serve.
