Shrimp Mac and Cheese

with White Cheddar and Peas

Making mac and cheese from scratch is surprisingly easy, once you master the sauce. A mainstay of classic French cooking, Mornay is a béchamel sauce—cream-based, thickened with flour—but with cheese melted in. Here, you'll whip up a white Cheddar version with scallions for oniony tang, then toss in shrimp, peas, and corkscrew-shaped gemelli, whose sauce-grabbing powers are just as strong as, if not better than, macaroni.

Recipe tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Feel free to slice the scallions as usual—we like to cut them on a diagonal, also known as the bias cut, for a cheffy touch and elegant presentation.

The 3 essentials of a Mornay sauce are cream or milk, cheese, and roux (pronounced "roo"). A roux is a mixture of flour browned in fat to create nutty flavor and add thickening power to soups or sauces. The typical French way is to toast the flour in butter, but here, we opt for a different flavor with olive oil.

USDA recommends cooking shellfish to 145°F.

1. Cook shrimp

Bring a large pot of water to a boil over high heat. Pat shrimp dry with paper towel; season with ¾ teaspoon salt and pepper. Heat 1 tablespoon olive oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add shrimp and cook, stirring occasionally, until opaque and just pink, 4–6 minutes total. Using a slotted spoon, transfer shrimp to a paper towel–lined plate to drain. Wipe pan clean and reserve, off heat, for Step 4.

2. Prepare ingredients

While shrimp cook, rinse scallions. Trim and discard scallion roots and thinly slice crosswise on a diagonal, keeping whites and light greens separate from dark greens (see recipe tip).

3. Cook gemelli and peas

Season boiling water generously with salt. Stir in gemelli and cook 6 minutes. Then, add peas and cook until pasta is al dente and peas are tender, 1 minute more. Reserve 1 cup pasta cooking water (it's easiest to reserve in a liquid measuring cup, if you have one). Then, drain pasta and peas and return to pot, off heat.

4. Make Mornay sauce

Return pan from shrimp to medium-high heat with ¼ cup olive oil. When oil is shimmering, add scallion whites and light greens and sauté, stirring occasionally, until aromatic, 1 minute. Add flour and cook, stirring, until lightly browned, 1 minute. Whisking continuously, add milk and cook until thickened, 2 minutes more. Remove pan from heat. Whisk in white Cheddar to melt. Season with pepper as desired.

5. Finish mac and cheese

Transfer Mornay sauce to pot with gemelli and peas. Adding 2 tablespoons at a time, stir in reserved pasta cooking water until sauce is silky and clings to pasta. Add shrimp to pot with pasta and toss to coat. Taste and add salt and pepper as desired.

6. Plate shrimp mac and cheese

Divide shrimp mac and cheese among serving bowls. Garnish with everything bagel spice mix and scallion dark greens. Dig in!
