

Soy-Glazed Steak

with Sweet Potato Fries and Wasabi Mayo

We love to add fun twists to our favorite restaurant dishes, a great way to experiment with new cuisines in a familiar way. In this recipe, steak and french fries get a Japanese-inspired makeover. The steaks baste with butter and soy sauce as they sear, a technique that locks in moisture and bumps up the umami. Sweet potatoes replace regular fries and are served with a savory, spicy wasabi mayo for dipping. This is a dish you won't find in any steakhouse or sushi restaurant, but one that's bound to be an instant hit at home.

Cooking Steps

Prepare ingredients
Preheat oven to 450°F. Rinse all produce. Halve sweet potatoes lengthwise. Cut lengthwise into ¼-inch slices, then cut lengthwise again into ¼-inch fries. Trim and discard scallion root. Roughly chop scallion whites and light greens. Thinly slice scallion dark greens crosswise on a diagonal (this creates a nice presentation, but feel free to chop instead).

Bake sweet potato fries
On a baking sheet, toss sweet potatoes with 1 tablespoon canola oil, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepperas desired. Arrange in a single layer, spacing apart as much as possible, and bake until golden brown and crisp, 20-25 minutes. Remove from oven and sprinkle over sesame seeds and scallion dark greens.

Sear steaks
While sweet potatoes bake, pat steaks dry with paper towel and season all over with ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper as desired. Heat ½ tablespoon canola oil in a medium pan over medium-high heat. When oil is shimmering, add steaks and sear, without moving, until browned on bottom, 4-6 minutes (the steaks will finish cooking in the next step).

Baste steaks
Flip steaks in pan, still over medium-high heat. Add butter and 2 packets soy sauce to pan. Cook, spooning melted soy butter over steaks, until steaks are browned and medium rare, 4-6 minutes more. Transfer steaks to a plate, spoon over any remaining soy butter from pan, and set aside to rest, 5 minutes.

Make wasabi mayo and slaw
While steaks rest, in a blender or food processor, combine wasabi (or use less for milder flavor),mayonnaise, scallion whites and light greens, ½ packet soy sauce (discard remainder), ⅛ teaspoon salt, and pepper as desired. Blend until smooth. Transfer half of wasabi mayo to a medium bowl, reserving remainder for serving. Add slaw mix to medium bowl with wasabi mayo and toss to combine.

Plate soy-glazed steak
Cut steaks against the grain into ¼-inch slices. Divide slaw between serving plates and top with soy-glazed steak. Serve with sweet potato fries and reservedwasabi mayo for dipping. Enjoy!
