

Parmesan-Roasted Cauliflower Bowls

with Kale, Quinoa, and Red Pepper Sauce

This bowl of goodness highlights some of our favorite seasonal produce and one of our all-star homemade condiments: red pepper sauce. Parmesan-seasoned cauliflower is roasted with crunchy almonds, then piled high on fluffy quinoa with hearty kale and a shallot vinaigrette. A drizzle of creamy red pepper sauce seals the deal.

Ingredients

- ⅔ cup quinoa
- 12 ounces cauliflower
- 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
- 3 tablespoons sliced almonds
- 6 ounces dinosaur kale
- 1 shallot
- 1 clove garlic
- 1½ tablespoons apple cider vinegar
- 1 packet Dijon mustard
- 1 packet honey, divided
- ¼ cup roasted red peppers
- 1 teaspoon balsamic vinegar

You'll Need

- ¼ cup + 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 1⅓ cups water
- kosher salt
- black pepper
- 6" small pot with lid
- baking sheet
- blender (optional)

Recipe Tips

Be sure to read through the entire recipe before you begin cooking. Trust us—you'll be glad you did!

Raw shallot can be a strong flavor. We recommend 1½ tablespoons in this dressing, but feel free to use more or less according to your preference. If you've got some shallot leftover, mince and add to another salad dressing.

Raw kale can be tough, so it requires a bit of TLC. Massaging the leaves helps soften them up.

1. Cook Quinoa

Preheat oven to 425°F. In a small pot, combine quinoa, 1⅓ cups water, and ¼ teaspoon salt. Bring to a boil over high heat, then cover, reduce heat to medium low, and simmer until water is evaporated and quinoa is tender, about 15 minutes. Remove pot from heat and set aside, still covered.

2. Roast Cauliflower

While quinoa cooks, cut cauliflower into ½-inch florets, discarding tough stem and leaves. On a baking sheet, toss cauliflower with Parmesan and 1 tablespoon olive oil. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and black pepper as desired. Roast in the oven until lightly browned, about 15 minutes. Then, remove from oven, sprinkle over almonds and continue roasting until almonds are golden and cauliflower is tender, 5 minutes more. Set aside.

3. Prepare Ingredients

While cauliflower roasts, rinse kale, trim and discard stems, and thinly slice leaves crosswise. Mince shallot to yield about 1½ tablespoons (see Recipe Tip). Mince garlic.

4. Make Dressing and Massage Kale

In a large bowl, whisk together apple cider vinegar, Dijon mustard, ½ packet honey, and minced shallot. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and black pepper as desired. Whisking continuously, slowly add ¼ cup olive oil until fully combined. Add kale to bowl with vinaigrette and, using your hands, massage until fully coated and beginning to soften, 1-2 minutes (see Recipe Tip).

5. Make Red Pepper Sauce

In a blender, combine roasted red peppers, balsamic vinegar, garlic, remaining honey, and 2 tablespoons olive oil. Pulse until mixture is smooth and combined. Alternatively, finely chop roasted red peppers and whisk with remaining ingredients in a medium bowl until mixture comes together. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and black pepper as desired.

6. Plate Cauliflower Bowls

Add quinoa to bowl with kale and toss to combine. Divide kale and quinoa between serving bowls and top with cauliflower and almonds. Drizzle over red pepper sauce and dig in!
